Roxana,

It's been a great year knowing you. Hope to know you longer, but it all depends on my dad. Hope you get through the summer with as little pain as possible. Good luck with Tom, I hope things work out between the two of you. Stay sweet and just the way you are, skinny, and funny.

Love,

Dedication

For your devoted attention to all students and their interests

For your ever-smiling disposition that creates a different spectrum of education

For recognizing the desires of each student as an individual

For the unselfish hours spent in academic and administrative work

For this and much more, we, the Senior Class of 1976, dedicate the Talon to

"y"

The "longed for" summer had gone.
School came faster than ever before,
putting an end to golden tans,
muscle beach, bathing beauties,
"takin' it easy," and "partyin" every night.
Though we had to say goodbye to the summer, fall brought colorful leaves and many memories.

When winter came everyone moved indoors. We donned our ski sweaters and huddled to the fires. Our houses and hearts stayed warm, but the school had a different attitude. "Conserve and save" was the motto for sure, because the heat was rarely on and if you sat by the windows you would be frost bitten by the end of the bell.

The crowds filled the gym for winter sports to see a three year record broken, heartbreaking defeats, and thrilling victories.

Spring came with soft, sunny days, soft as the twilight of evening after April's shower. Somehow there was never enough time for the tedious pastime of playing student, especially in the Spring.

As the end drew near, so did Senior Proms, graduation practice, Senior Skip Day, the signing of yearbooks, and good-byes . . .

The classes are endless it seems,
Sometimes they are fun
But often you sleep
through them,
Or take a few token notes . . .
To be flipped through in your spare moments,
While your mind is on the night before
Or a weekend away,
Or on the guy who winked at
you in the hall.
Any of a thousand things . . .
Anything . . .
Anything but the words
on the page in front of you.

REFLECTIONS OF THE PAST . . .

. . . FOUNDATIONS FOR THE FUTURE

Expressions of wonder, amazement, excitement, determination, and concentration are depicted as students celebrate various aspects of student life.

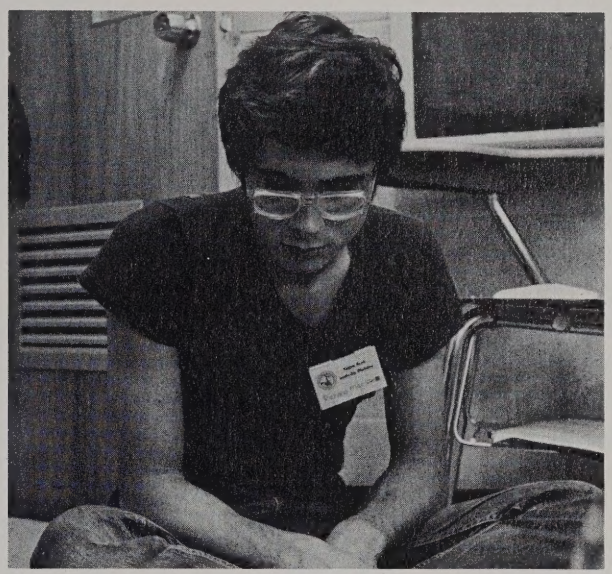
COX FALCONS

Workshop

Selected Cox students attended a special workshop at Virginia Wesleyan College during the summer. The city workshop offers classes in philosophy, consensus and Virginia school board policies. In group sessions the students learn leadership skills.

Gary Ponton and Mary Pat Denney share a lighter moment.



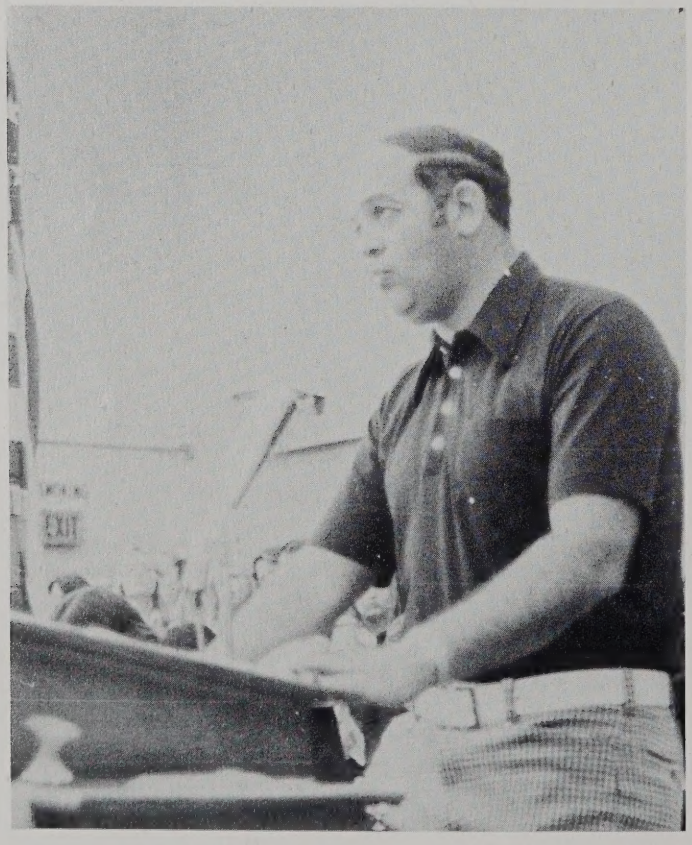
Richard Marlow shares ideas with students from other schools.

Mr. Deviney, Mr. Williams and Miss Tilley take a camera break.

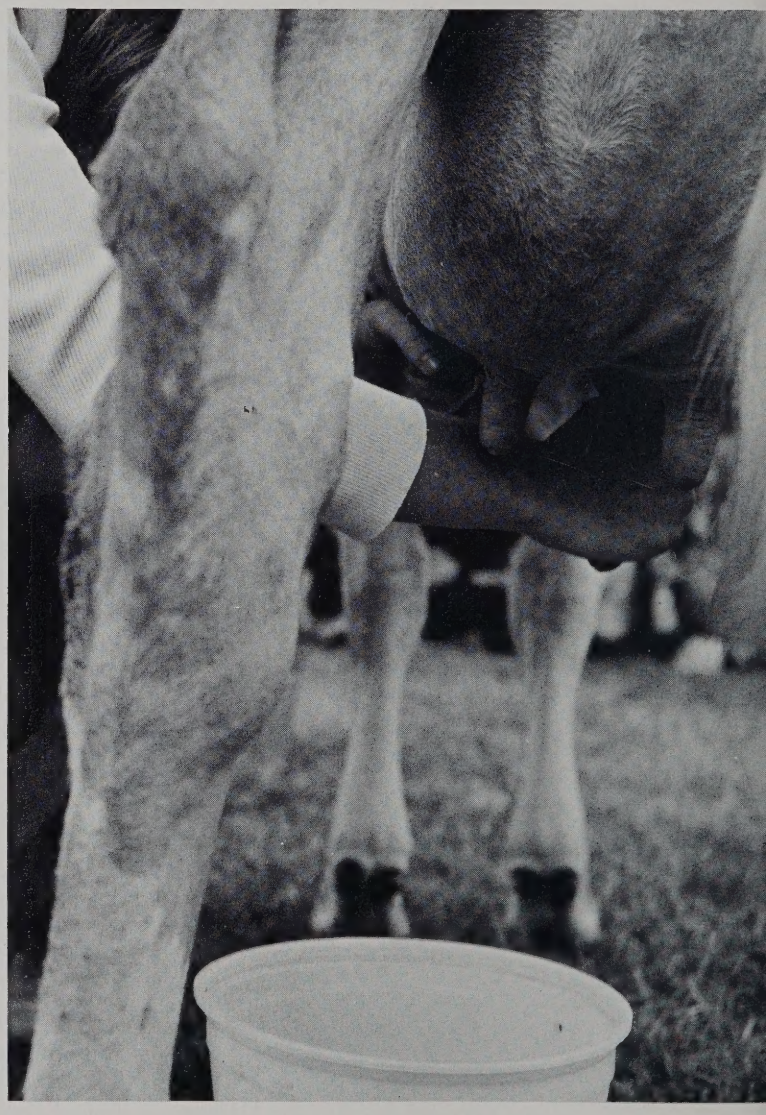
Spirit Week

"Too bad, 'fellas', you didn't eat your Wheaties".

Cox spirit reached its peak the week before Homecoming with some strange events. Revealed to unsuspecting eyes would have been such sights as a defenseless cow being mercilessly milked by untrained hands; people stuffing their faces with ice cream; twenty maxi-sized people trying to cram themselves into one mini-sized car; class reps sprawling on the ground at the end of a rope; Juniors & Seniors begging for pennies for spirit links, and, topping off the week, was a high-spirited pep rally.



Coach Habit instills the desire for victory.



"Pop, pop, fizz, fizz, oh what a relief it is."

NEPTUNE FEST

The 2nd Annual Neptune Festival was like an extended vacation to some, not only because of the extra day off, but because there were many events in which students could be involved.

Lynn Zimmerly represented Cox in King Neptune's court throughout the festival.

Fun and games at Mount Trashmore, dances in the streets, the Seafood Feast, and a grand fireworks display were all part of the festivities that Cox students enjoyed.

Although toilet paper tied things down, the show went on. In the center ring, Cathy Crutsinger stepped into the spotlight as Kim Litz bowed out. The first attraction featured antique cars carrying the young beauties and their escorts, with the second being the traditional float parade. As the grand finale, everyone "got down" with Sundown.

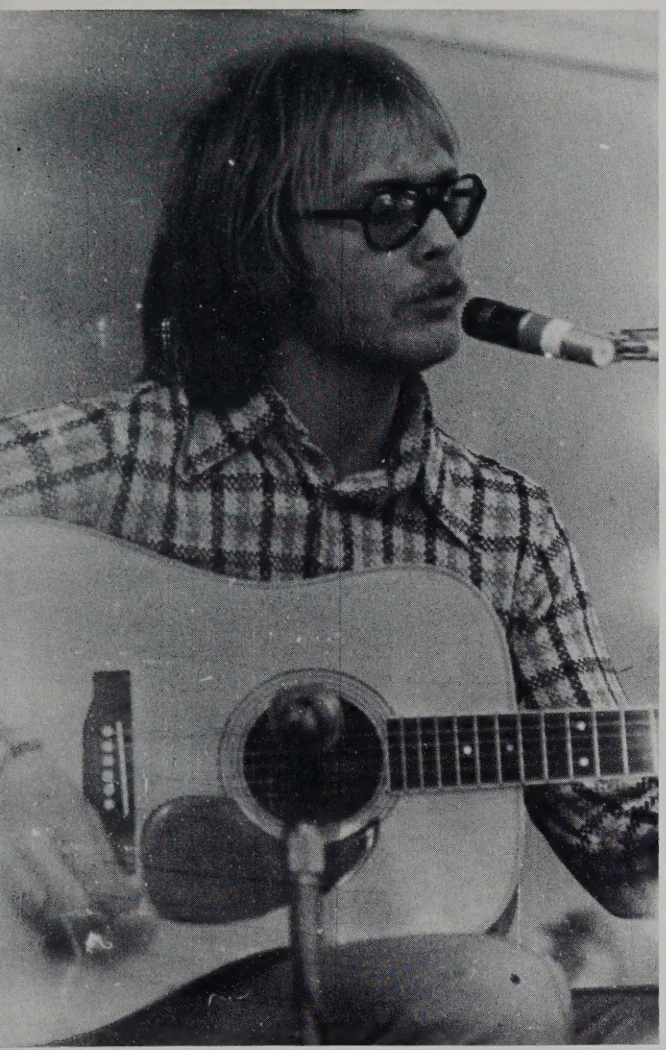
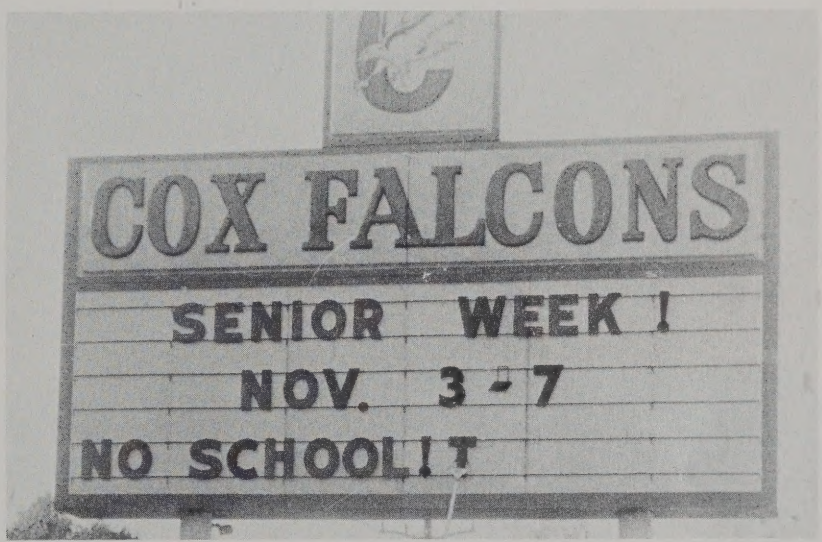
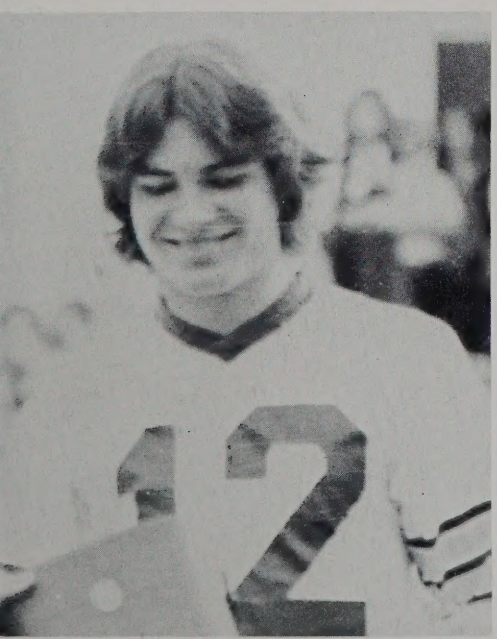
Senior Week



Paul Wergley entertains Seniors.

As a special honor to Seniors, a week was set aside to recognize their final year. Activities included a special pep rally in which all classes participated. Paul Wergley, a William and Mary graduate, played the guitar, piano, and harmonica for the attentive crowd.



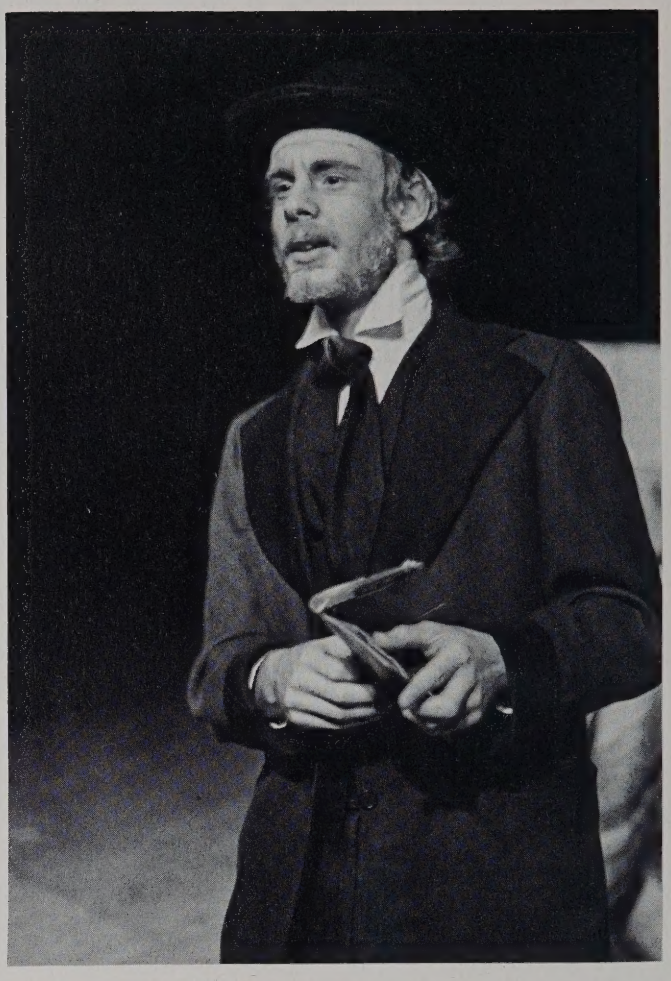


As an aid for spotting receivers, Blain Cipriano is awarded binoculars.

John Pierce can't believe his award.

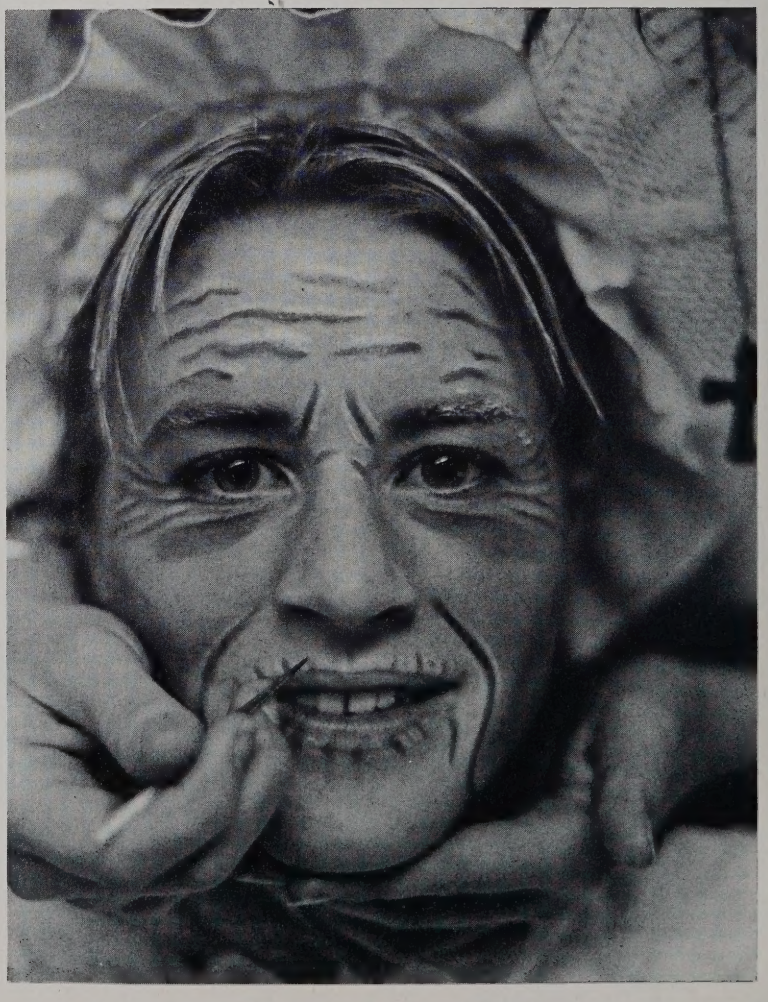
the matchmaker

The Senior Class play, The Matchmaker, ended, as always, with standing ovations. Presented November 20, 21, and 22, the play was a huge success. The costumes, scenery and makeup design were handled by the Drama II and III classes and were as good as the performances of the Thespians themselves. The various changes in scenery and costume livened up the color contrast and mood throughout the play. Congratulations went to James Garrett, Director and cast members Kenya Benitez, Tee Carr, Joanie Marlow, Glenda Franklin, Bill Fleitz, Kevin Humphreys, Mark Lefler, Bill Stanley, George Harris, Ron Batliner, Melissa Principe, Debbie Parker, Elia Ferrell, and Bruce Bobel.



Is George Harris really this honest?

Kenya Benitez turns down a marriage proposal.



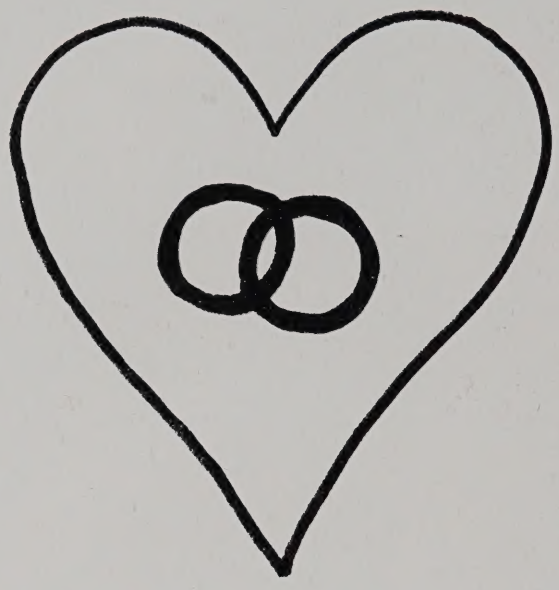
Could this be your grandmother?

She isn't your average run of the mill matchmaker.

"Well . . . I never!" gasps Joanie Marlowe.

Elia Ferrell tells Melissa Principe not to worry.

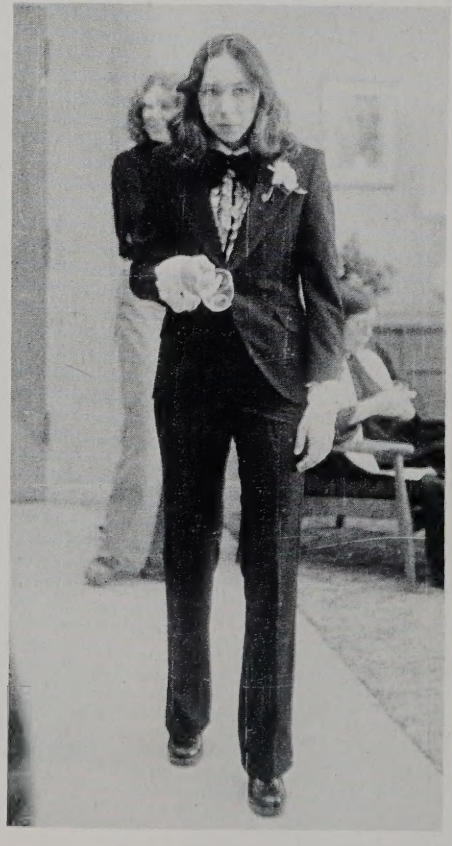
Dearly Beloved...



A mock-wedding was put on by the Marriage and Family Living classes on November 25th. It was done to make the students aware of marriage customs and laws and to give them ideas on planning a wedding. This was a new experience to Cox students and was done to arouse the interests and to create new images about Home Economics.

A father adds reality to the event.

Crystal Nice contemplates the day when this will be real.



"More punch, please?"

"I'm glad this is over."

Powder Puff

For the third year in a row the class of 76 conquered its opponents. Early in the 2nd quarter, ref Eddie Habit was attacked by three vivacious cheerleaders when a senior touchdown was called back because of illegal procedure.

That did not stop the Seniors as they went all the way to victory over the Juniors with a six point win.

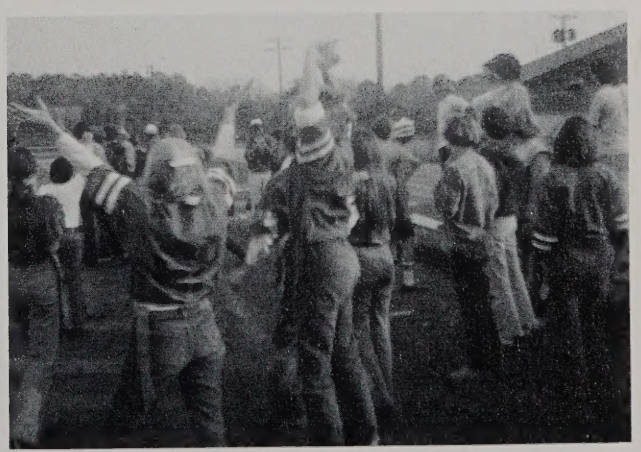
Okay, Juniors let's go!

The crowd enjoys the half-time show.

Lindsay, Sam and Jerry cheer for the Seniors.

Coach Randy Goffigan gives the Juniors advice.

Straighten that line.

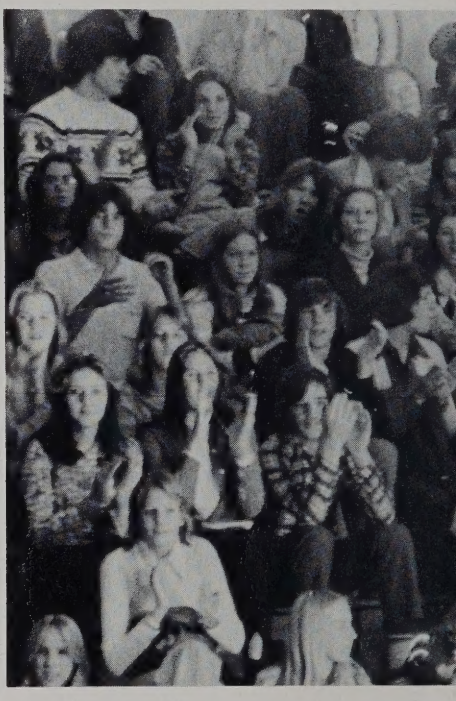


The Seniors score again!

Christmas Omnibus

Our tradition of the Christmas Omnibus came again this year with two full days of assemblies. Thanks to David Fink, committee chairman of Omnibus, the students were kept enthused and interested with the different displays of talent. Cox High School is the only school in the area to have these assemblies. They are like a Christmas present that starts the holidays just right.

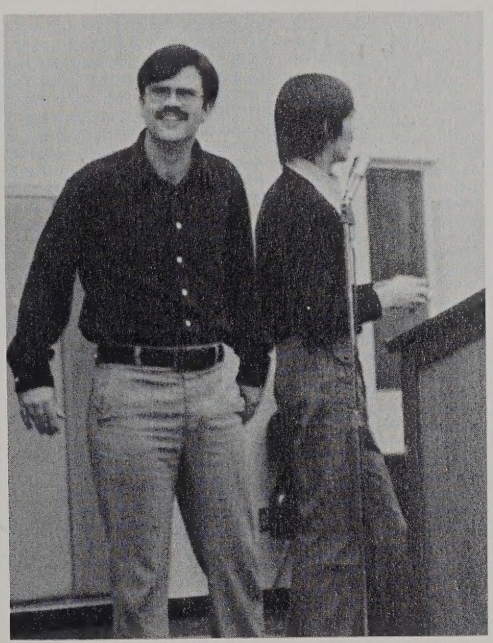
"Hai-i-i ya-a-a!"



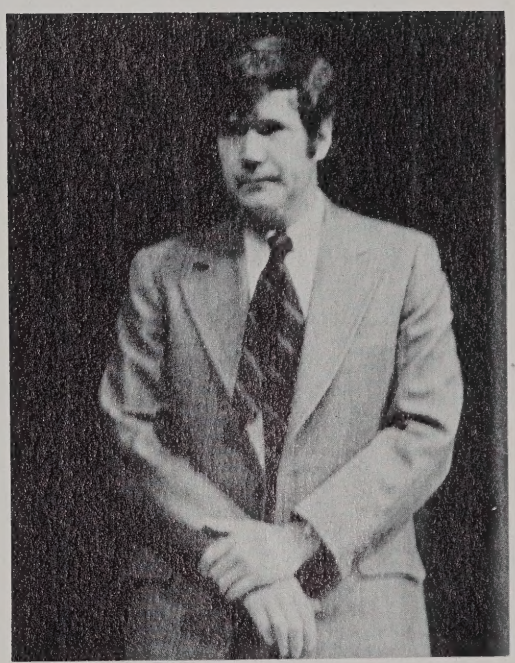
Ray Neugent scores for the students.

"Aren't we cool?"

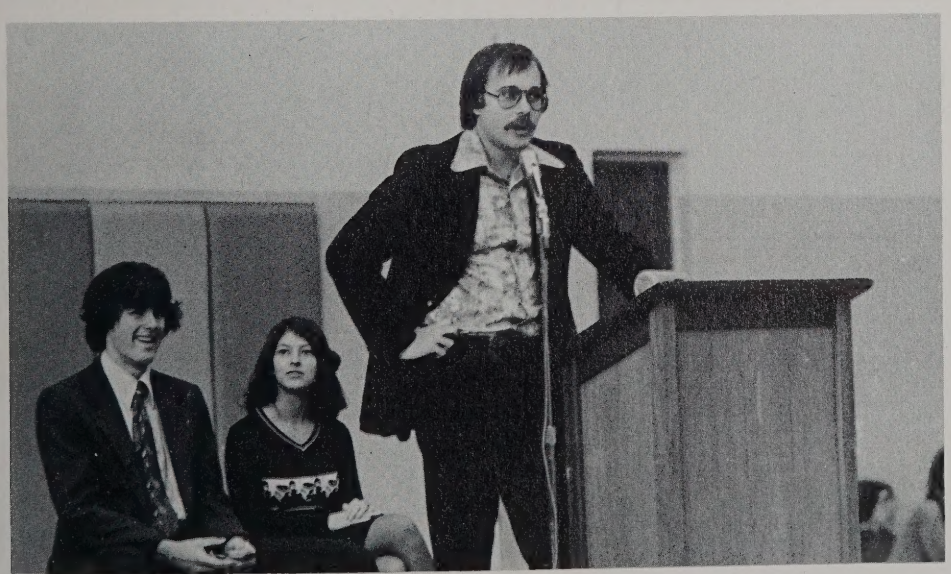
The faculty enjoys a Christmas breakfast.



WGH's Dumbo entertains?



Senator Joe Canada informs students about Va. politics.



"Could you believe how much the Squires get paid?"

Students are touched by Mrs. Mary Barraco's life story.

Attending the Va. Beach Vocational Technical Education Center daily, twenty-two Cox students worked diligently in their chosen fields. From classroom courses, as well as simulated job training, students acquired beneficial knowledge in the business world in an effort to prepare them for future professions.

A TASTE OF SHOW BIZ

This year's Junior Talent Show was a huge success with Donna Burns acting as the mistress of ceremonies. The talents ranged from singing, playing the guitar or piano to magic acts and impressions. The show was well organized and the presentation itself surpassed any in previous years. First place was awarded to Ricky Lutz. His costume was complete with tuxedo and sunglasses, as he brought down the house while playing "Funeral for a Friend" by Elton John.

Sonya White took home second place with "her version of taking a bath." She had a variety of impressions, ranging from Barbara Streisand to Donny Osmond. Meg Coradi received third place by singing two songs and playing the guitar. The talents of all the other performers will long be remembered as will the 1976 "A Taste of Showbiz."

RING

"Time in a Bottle"

The Sheraton Beach Inn was the scene of this year's Junior Ring Dance. The theme "Time in a Bottle" was appropriate, because the rings were passed out in champagne glasses. The honor of handing out the long awaited rings was bestowed upon Ricky Lutz. Rene Meredith and Michelle Bell worked hard to make this an event to celebrate. As the people swayed to the tunes of "Leaves of Grass," the evening came to a successful finish.

Mark Virgili, Ricky Lutz, David Purpura and Taylor Wootten distribute the long-awaited rings.

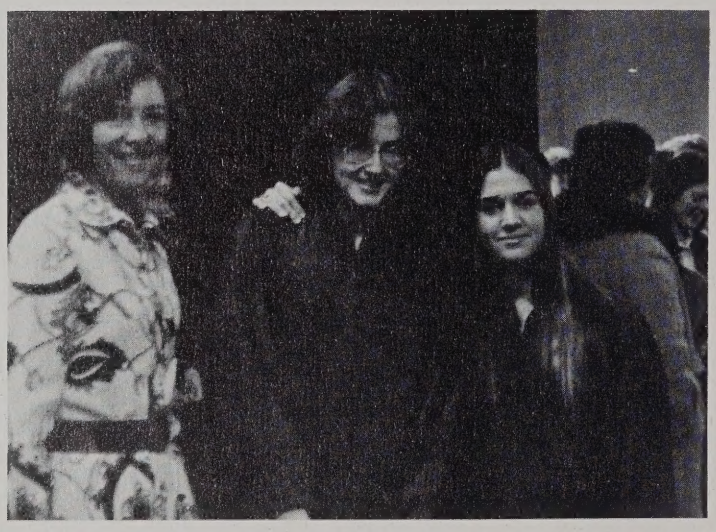
National Honor Society

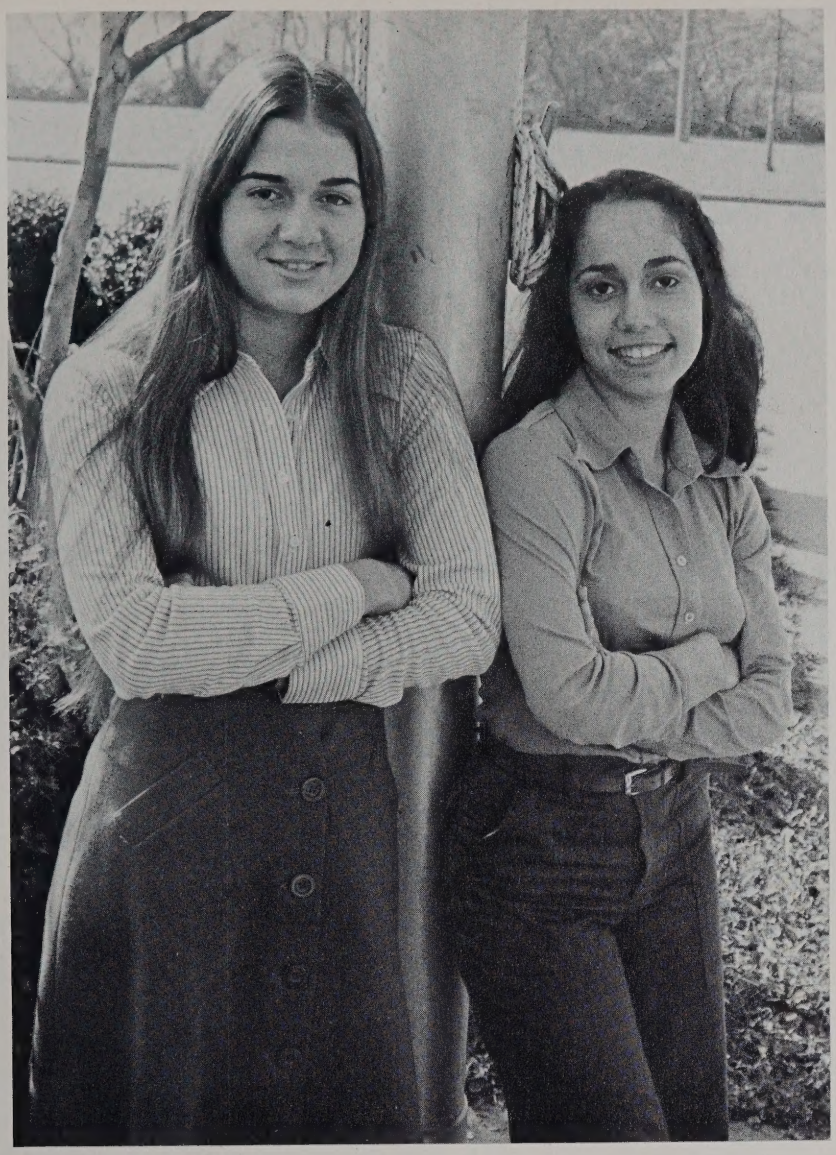
Sponsor, Miss Samford and President, Ellen Schall congratulate a new member.



They are really smarter than they look!

Twice a year students outstanding in character, service, scholarship, and leadership are tapped as members of the National Honor Society. This is not merely an honor, for this group is involved in various projects throughout the year, such as the presentation of a skit for Omnibus and the sale of poinsettias.

Grace Beyrouty, Colleen Fleitz, Mary Denny, Cheryl Utterback, Deanna Kraus, Cathy Harrison, Ellen Schall, Richard Marlow, Raymond Nugent, Bailey Condrey, Debbie Joyce, Nora Steentofte, Kathy McGown.



Governor's School

Governor's School was held last summer at Sullins College. Admittance was highly selective. Juniors and Seniors selected as nominees in artistic and academic fields underwent preliminary screening in their high schools and counties before final acceptance.

Those attending Governor's School were: Ellen Schall — Art, and Kenya Benitez — Dramatics.

Boy's and Girl's State, intensive programs of study in objective citizenship were held at Lynchburg College and Longwood College, respectively, last summer. Six rising seniors were selected to represent Cox on the basis of their outstanding leadership.

Those attending were Art Motley, Chris Reich, David Fink, Cheryl Utterback, Tee Carr, and Lynn Zimmerly (not pictured).

Boys' & Girls' State

Forensics Team

Bottom: Mark Lefler, Kenny Winn, Colleen Fleitz, Betty Wisecarver, Ward Bradley. Top: Laureen Burns, Richard Marlow, Mike Matlick

Following intramural school competition, the Cox Forensics team was represented at the district meet in all divisions: boys' and girls' poetry reading; boys' and girls' extemporaneous speaking; boys' oratory and spelling. In the district meet, team members earned two second places and one third, and in the regionals, one third place. Those students who competed at the district meet were Colleen Fleitz and Richard Marlow, prose; Laurie Burns, Michael Matlick, poetry; Kenny Winn, Betty Wisecarver, extemporaneous; Mark Lefler, original oratory and Ward Bradley, spelling. Co-sponsors of the Forensics Team were Mrs. George and Mrs. Trett with special assistance from Mrs. Myers and Mrs. Hahn.

Mr. White, Sponsor; Officers — Kerry Winn, Betty Wisecarver, Mark Lefler.

The Debate Team has grown greatly since last year, with the aid of the Public Speaking class, and their sponsor, Mr. White. They had mock debates with First Colonial, and attended the Eastern District Debate Tournament on March 13.

Scholastic Team

To be selected as a member of The Ledger-Star Scholastic Team, a student must have one of the highest academic averages in his class. After a faculty vote, two students from each class were chosen to represent Cox.

Assisting the library faculty, these students proved to be important in enabling other students to efficiently use library facilities. Their service was greatly appreciated.

Kellam Exchange

After the successes of last year, the S.C.A. again planned exchange programs for Cox. An inter-city exchange was carried out with Kellam High School in November. Because this program was not all they had hoped, another city exchange was planned for the spring with First Colonial.

Much planning was done for the Domestic Exchange in the spring. Schools in Pennsylvania and Kentucky were discussed as possible participants.

Cox Participants: Bill Gambrell, Mary Pat Denney, Sharon Espey, Andy Moore, Mark Watson, Bill Casey, Tee Carr, Cindy Brooks, Elysa Jarashow.

Third Row: Walter Malone, Tricia Malbon, Scott Beach, Jim Locke, Jane Sassone, David Moore.

Junior Miss

The evening of October 26 was an important one for Lauri Banks, Judi Lancaster, Cheryl Utterback, and Lynn Zimmerly. These girls competed in the Junior Miss Virginia Beach Pageant.

They were judged on a personal interview, talent, academic average, poise, appearance, and personality.

Each of the girls displayed their talent in their performances. Lynn presented a jazz dance to the theme of the Dating Game, "Whipped Cream," Judi performed her own version of "Brian's Song" on the piano, and Cheryl sang a part from the play "Godspell."

Lynn Zimmerly came in first place, was crowned and was sent to Roanoke in January to represent Virginia Beach. Judi Lancaster was first runner-up and Cheryl Utterback was second.

Third Row: Joyce Frier, Ellen Scheurich, Jen Lee Guthrie, Julie Marcel, Scott Beach, Gary Ponton, Randy Robida, Carrie DeVenny.

The Executive Council consists of the officers of the S.C.A., the committee chairmen, and two officers of each grade class. It has its meetings before each S.C.A. meeting in order to discuss and screen all matters that are to come before the S.C.A.

The Senior Executive Council is made up of the chairmen and co-chairmen of all senior class committees. These people were appointed to their positions according to their qualifications by the senior class officers. The purpose of each committee chairman is to organize his committee and to stimulate involvement in class activities.

The Inter-Club Council is the organization through which projects are passed. It is made up of the Vice Presidents of all the clubs and classes at Cox. The chairman is usually the S.C.A. Vice President.

If a club has a project it wishes to carry out, it must first be passed at an I.C.C. meeting. The chairman then has Mr. Baum, the director of Student Activities, approve it. If he does, it is then taken to Mr. Davis. If he approves it, the project may be carried out.

The reason for having an I.C.C. is primarily for communication. It is a way of letting the administration and all clubs know who is doing what so everything can run smoothly.

Starting the year with a new staff and sponsor, the Coxswain spent many long hours working to put out a paper monthly. The Coxswain staff changed the style of the paper, making it look more professional.

This year the Coxswain sponsored a Photo Contest and had Christmas greetings from the students published in their paper.

Everyone always worked hard, and there was always something to do in that room with the Talon writers. Of course, everyone enjoyed it and the year was filled with fun and interesting things to do.

TALON STAFF

Why would anyone want to stay after school almost every day of the year, put up with fussy editors and pinkos, or try to meet deadlines with only a handful of people? Who would try to digest Burger King's hamburgers, develope conjunctivitis, laugh through lip pictures, sacrifice holidays and more importantly one's sleep? Why else but to capture memories and savor excitement and the spirit of the year gone by. "Bull," you might say, but it's all worth while when you're holding that finished book.

Recruiting began in the spring of '75 and lasted throughout the summer. Forty-five interested students were welcomed to the Talon staff in the fall. By the first hectic deadline, the true dedicated members dwindled to almost half. However, "that half" proved to be invaluable.

Cox DECA members are students enrolled in the Distributive Education and Fashion Merchandising Classes. The purpose of the cooperative D.E. program is three-fold: related classroom instruction, on-the-job training in community retail and service businesses and participation in Cox DECA — the D.E. Club. Each phase is geared toward developing a more well-rounded and better trained student, whose ultimate career goal is some aspect of marketing, distribution or fashion.

This year the D.E. Dept. added a new course — Fashion Merchandising. Some of the fashion students work part-time in fashion oriented jobs. All are interested in fashion as a career.

Some activities of the club were selling boxes of assorted items to raise money, and a special awards breakfast.

Cevinus Burke gets some feminine attention at Homecoming.

With an immediate goal of attending the State Junior Classical League convention, the Cox High Latin Club began a busy year. The first of several projects was a Roman breakfast of doughnuts and juice sold in the cafeteria in the mornings. Later, a Roman Raffle was held yielding six prize winners. Due to much hard work, twenty club members and Mrs. Holland attended the State Convention December 12th and 13th at the Hotel Roanoke with 1200 other Latin students.

Later in the year, a Roman banquet was held and also the club participated in High Shool Latin Olympics sponsored by a Portsmouth school.

As proved by this busy group, Latin is alive and well at Cox High!

FINE ARTS

First Row: Caryn Allender, Shannon McCormick, Maureen Stanton, Vickie Williamson, Becky Swoope. Second Row: Laura Herrmann, Susan Simonelli, Barbie Wright, Adrienne Ludena, Wendy Pond. Third Row: Sandy Ballew, Rodger Woods, Bill Stanley, Mark Lefler, Kevin Humphreys, Anita Curry.

The Fine Arts Club nas been active at Cox since 1964. Mr. Koeppen has sponsored the group from the beginning. The club is dedicated to increase one's knowledge and appreciation of the arts of music, theater, dance, paintings, and sculptures.

This year the club has attended several cultural activities in the area. Among these was the opera "Tosca," and the musical "Stop the World — I Want To Get Off."

The Fine Arts Club is always seeking those students who are interested in expanding their horizons while attending Cox.

This year's club officers were Vicki Williamson, President; Maureen Stanton, Vice President; Becky Swoope, Treasurer; and Shannon McCormick, Secretary.

"Toward New Horizons" is the motto of the newly developed Future Homemakers of America Chapter. Working together as a team established friendships, and helped the members accomplish their purpose of personal development. Some of the projects used to reach their goal included Craft and Charm Month, the March-of-Dimes Walkathon, and the Sweetheart Dinner.

A Christmas Dinner and the end-of-the-year picnic built strong friendships among members. Off to a good start, the young chapter had a very successful year.

CMA

The Cox Medical Association is an organization that helps students who are interested in becoming a part of some medical field get an idea of the qualities they need to have for the field of their choice. CMA is sponsored by Mrs. McBride.

The club had speakers, helped with the Mini Blood Mobile Drive and made favors for the Senior Citizens as a community project, there were also trips made to various hospitals. This was to give students a first hand view of life at a hospital.

At the end of the year, a banquet was held for CMA members.

"Now this is the way it's done!"

The National Thespians are a group of talented students devoted to excellence in theater arts. They began the year by presenting the Senior Class play, "The Matchmaker," by Thornton Wilder. The play had a successful three night run and was well received by all. With the money earned from the play, the Thespians journeyed to Washington, D.C. in January. Here, they viewed productions at the Kennedy Center for the performing Arts and the Arena Stage. When they returned, they again plunged into work by presenting a bill of three one act plays for the English classes.

In April, the Thespians, in conjunction with the Fine Arts Department, presented the thirteenth annual Spring Musical.

BAND

With a reputation of earning more superior ratings at the District Music Festival in grade six than any other city high school, our Symphonic Band accepted the challenge to prepare and maintain its superb standards. Therefore, "Practice, practice, practice," was the slogan in the band room. Directed by Mr. Billy T. Cooper, the Symphonic Band played for the annual Christmas Concert, Spring Concert, and many contests. Band members also participated in Solo and Ensemble, and Regional Band.

TROOPERS

Rifles: Kim Hockmuth, Deanna Kraus, Michelle Rodriguez, Karla Scappini, Tricia Trayer, Marion Virga.

Consisting of the horn line, drum line, and Color Guard, the Troopers were a competitive marching unit. By November they had won fourteen trophies, including two championships; East Carolina Band Day (Class A) and Cary Band Day (Class B). The seventy-seven Troopers, led by drum major, Rob James, was composed of thirty-eight playing members, twelve drummers, twenty flag girls and six rifle girls.

In the spring the Troopers competed in the Apple Blossom Festival 1976 in Winchester, Virginia, and Wilson Competition, in Wilson, North Carolina. Though the Troopers were small in number, they emphasized, "quality, not quantity." The Troopers were under the direction of Mr. Billy T. Cooper assisted by Mr. Gary Hudson who was in charge of the Color Guard.

Second Row: Carole Wiita (Captain), Lois Baker, Sue Walsh, Lisa Sigmon, Lauri Blish, Cheryl Dudley, Faith Lancaster, Linda Herring, Kathleen MacKay, Patricia Crutsinger, Doreen Shuffler (Co-captain).

In an unforgetable year the Cox Troopers' Color Guard won many trophies for their precision marching, colors, and beautiful performances. Much of this credit belongs to Mr. Gary Hudson, the director, who spent many hours writing the routines with Mr. Billy T. Cooper, the Band director. Long hours of practice, bus trips to competitions, and the thrill of being Number 1 made it fun and exciting.

The Troopers performed at all home football games.

KESTRELS

Spirited girls with an interest in Wrestling, the Kestrels helped Coaches Gutermuth and McGovern by bringing cokes and oranges to the wrestlers. They also sold spirit buttons and kept the Wrestling Team Statistics board up to date. They cheered the wrestlers on at dual meets, district, regional, and State!

The Radio Broadcasting Club was formed to supply efficient assistance to the needs of the S.C.A. and the school itself. This club's function was to deal with anything electrical such as P.A. systems and anything else requiring assistance.

The Radio Broadcasting Club repaired equipment needed by the school such as mikes, tape equipment, amplifiers, and any other equipment pertaining to electronics.

During the year, the Radio Broadcasting Club helped at special functions such as supplying music for basketball games. As a last resort, the club could supply music for school dances.

The Key Club of Cox High School is a part of an International Organization, which was established by Kiwanis International. The Key Clubs are based on the idea that young men learn and grow through service to others in their school, church, and community. The Key Club at Cox tries to uphold this goal. During the last year, the Key Club has contributed $150 to worthy community based charities, including a $50 challenge to other clubs on the Jerry Lewis Telethon, and $50 each to the United Fund and the American Cancer Fund. The contribution to the American Cancer Fund was on behalf of Glenn Peterson, a former member of the Cox Key Club, who died of cancer in September of 1975.

The source of the Key Club's funds comes through hard work on the part of its members. During 1975-76, the Key Club participated in car washes, candy sales, and cooperated with other Kiwannis Clubs in selling various products at the Neptune Festival.

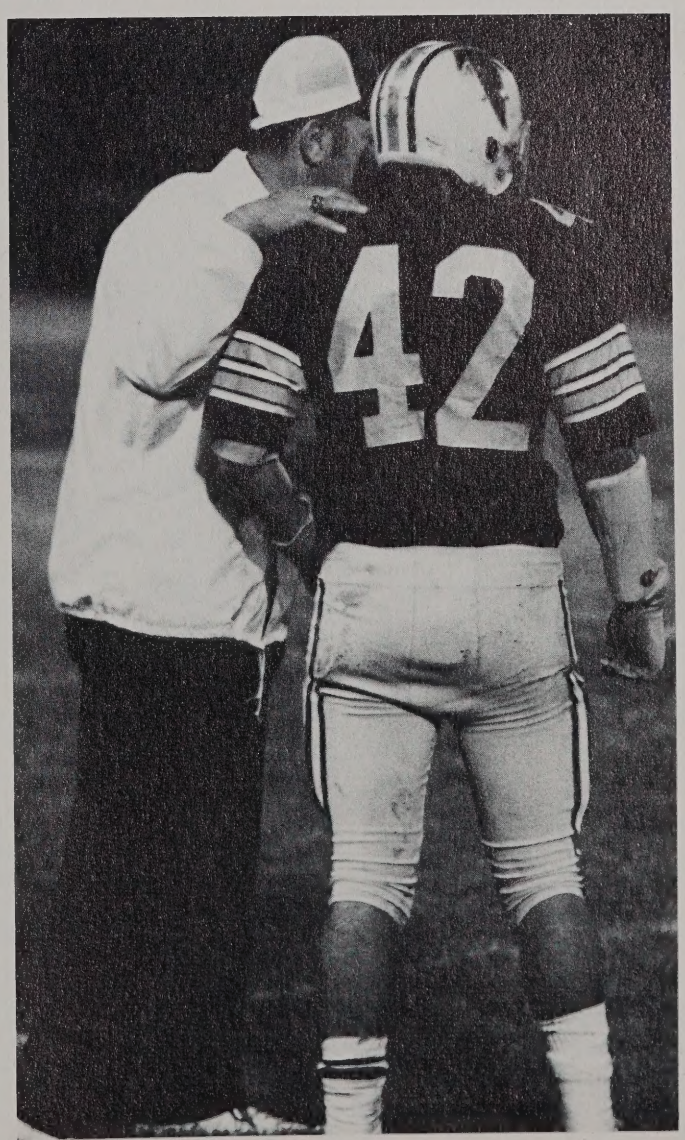
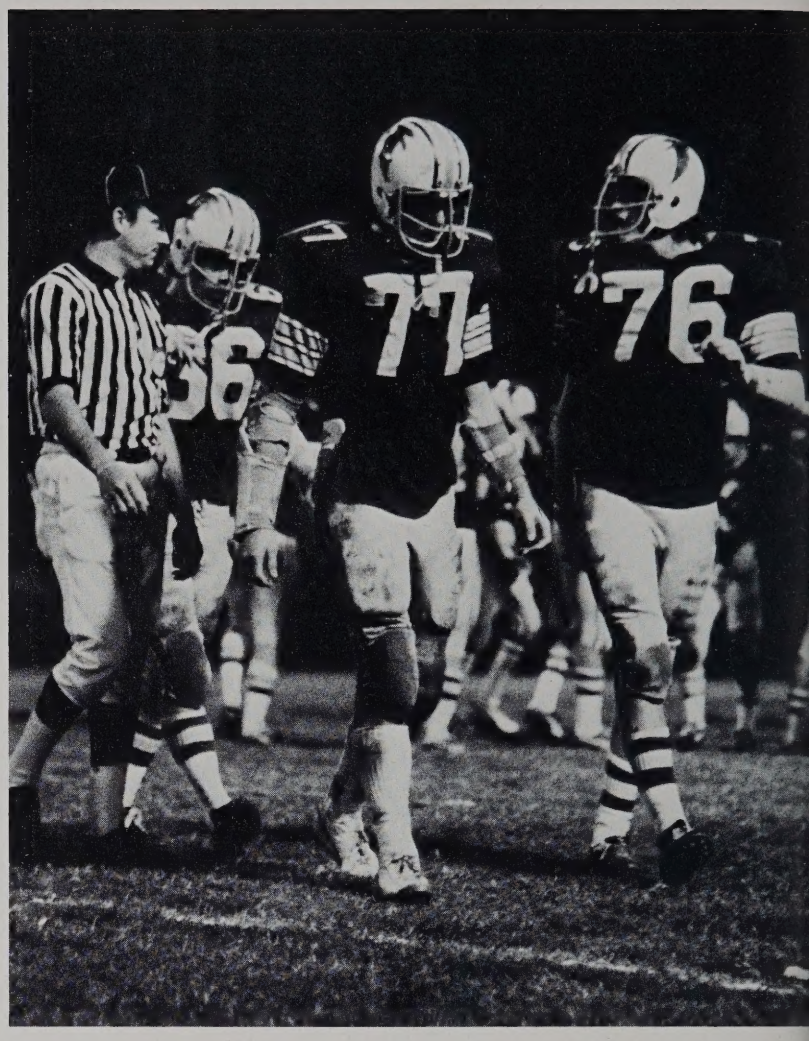
FOOTBALL

Celebration in Death Valley.

Where would we be without our manager Tim Beatty?



Moment of decision.



Falcons have Brian-Power.

After endless hours of practice under a broiling summer sun and with bitter memories of last year's season, the 1975 Falcons were well prepared for their first football game. Although Cox was not highly favored, the Falcons upset Princess Anne for their first conference win. The next week, pouring rain could not dampen Falcon feathers as Cox easily defeated Bayside.

From that game on, 1975 became "the year that might have been." In the next two games against Maury and Lake Taylor, the Falcons could overcome neither the officials nor a strong defense.

All was not lost, however, for the Fighting Falcons trounced their old foes, the Patriots, for a welcome victory.

They say all luck runs in threes but for Cox football fans, two was the unlucky number. In their next two games against Kempsville and Kellam, the Falcons again met defeat.

However, Falcon fans could not have asked for a more rewarding ending to the '75 season as Cox smeared "Booker T.," knocked Western Branch out of a championship, and froze Granby in their final game.

Coach Fisher tells it like it is.

The Junior Falcon football team, after a lot of hard work, sore muscles, and tired bodies proved they had what it takes to be a good team.

Their winning streak began when Princess Anne found out that the Baby Falcons were the better of the two. The victories kept coming, but, like the saying goes, "all good things must come to an end." And so, they did, when the J.V.'s were defeated in a match of strength and strategy against Bayside. Had they won this game, the Junior Falcons would have brought home a district title.

This game and the game that followed were not of total defeat for they ended a good season and indicated the beginnings of a strong Varsity team.

BABY FALCONS SOAR!

TOUGH BREAKS

Tyree Brown makes a painful save.

Although the Cox Basketball Squad met crushing last minute defeats at times, the Falcons never said die and fought until the last second with stamina and devotion. Through all their endeavors, both in victories and defeats, they performed in true Cox spirit.

Returning from last year, Tyree Brown directed the action for the team. Brown's experience at fast breaks down the court and accurate shooting ability counted greatly in anxious moments. Chris Reich, Jim Lockie and, all returning from the previous varsity team, added their experience to the games. All three racked up points and Chris' height was a valuable asset in rebounding and guarding. The new men on this year's team attacked with determination and pumped in points from tough outside positions.

J.V. BASKETBALL

It was quickly discovered by the Cox Junior Varsity Basketball team that high school basketball requires a lot of skill, ability, agility, and speed. The requirements were tough, but the J.V. team measured up to them readily. The squad, after long hours of practice, hit the hardwood with the goal of showing just what Baby Falcons can do.

The Varsity Wrestling team knew that a state title would not come easy this year. They took to the practice mats with true devotion. The first two matches proved the ability of each wrestler. The match against Kempsville brought a tear to the eye of every loyal fan and especially to the team and coaches, because Cox's grapplers were defeated for the first time in four years. Cox went on to win the rest of their matches for the regular season. They brought home the Eastern District title with four firsts. Those that placed were Albert Fisher, Frank Kelly, Jeff Newburn, and Bobby Stubbs. Second places were won by Buddy Kerr, Tim Wagner, and Tim Davidson.

Cox's grapplers placed second in Regionals. Our wrestlers also placed second at State, losing the first place title by one point to Menchville.

Hazel Conkwright gets the ball by.

EASTERN DISTRICT CHAMPS

Rene Opalio lunges for a win.

Two Falcons are better than one.

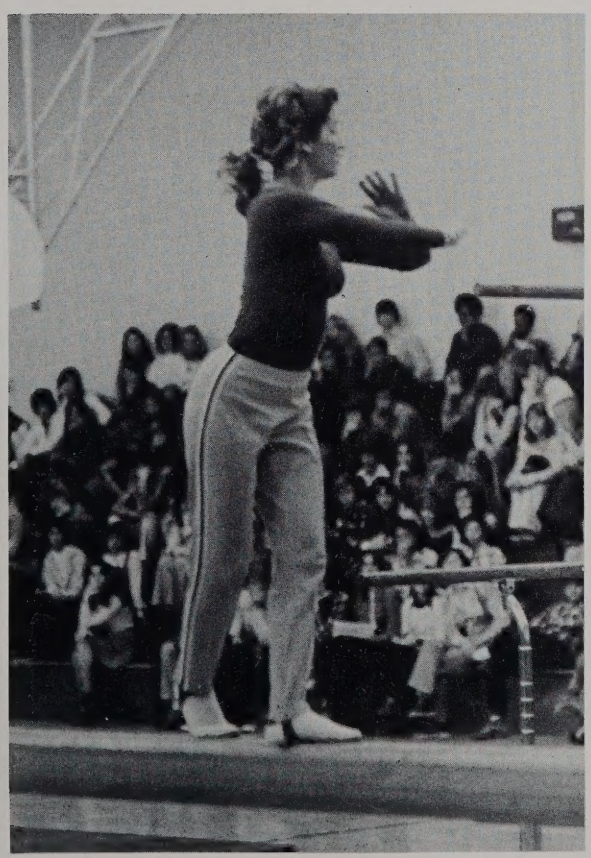
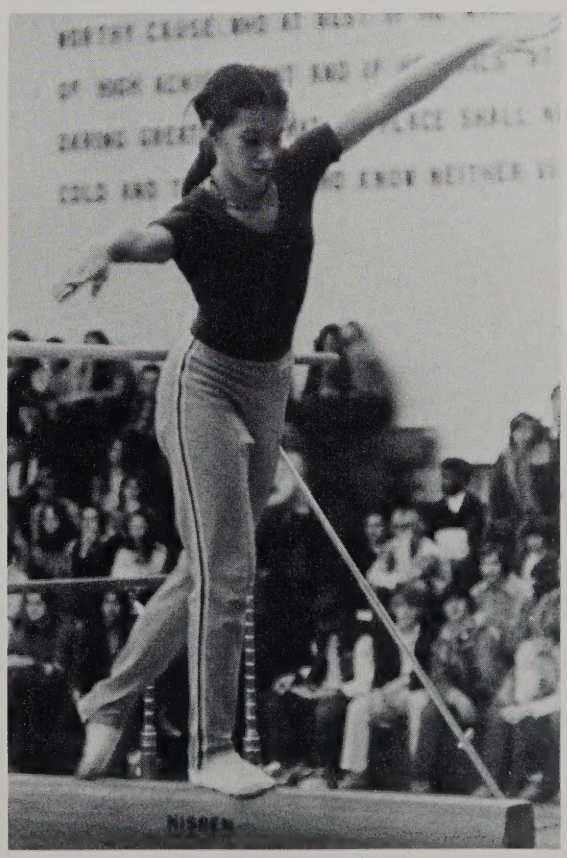
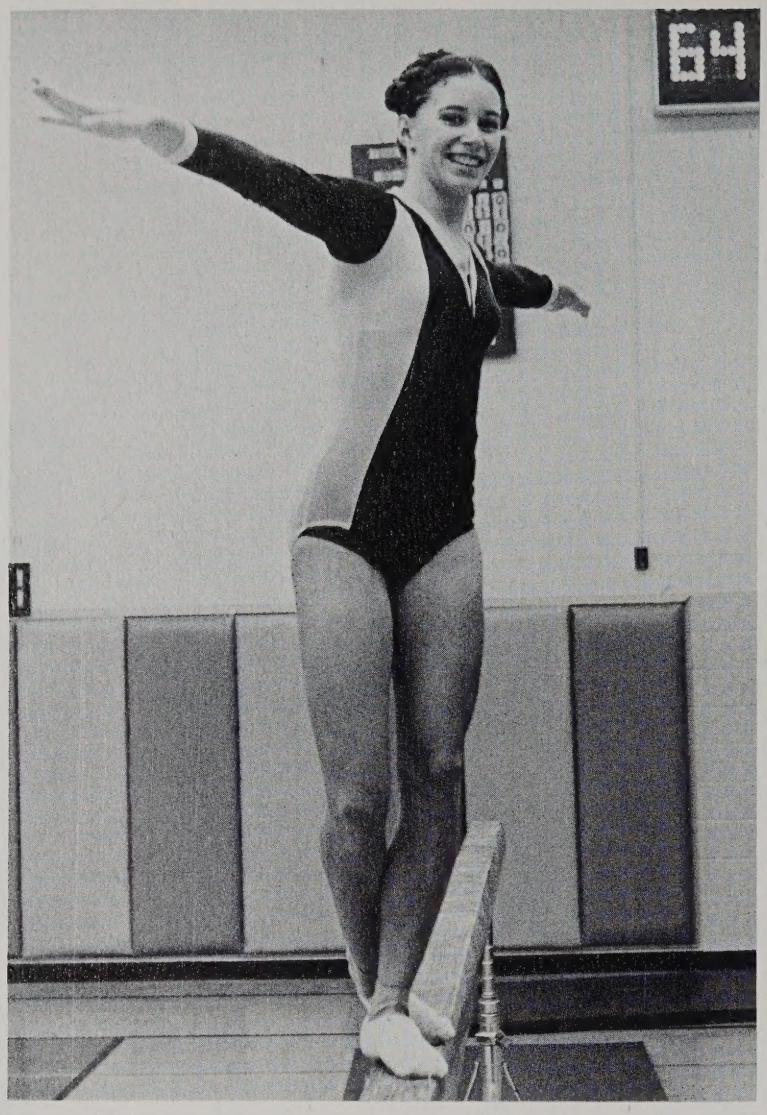
GYMNASTICS

Fellow team members watch with anxiety.



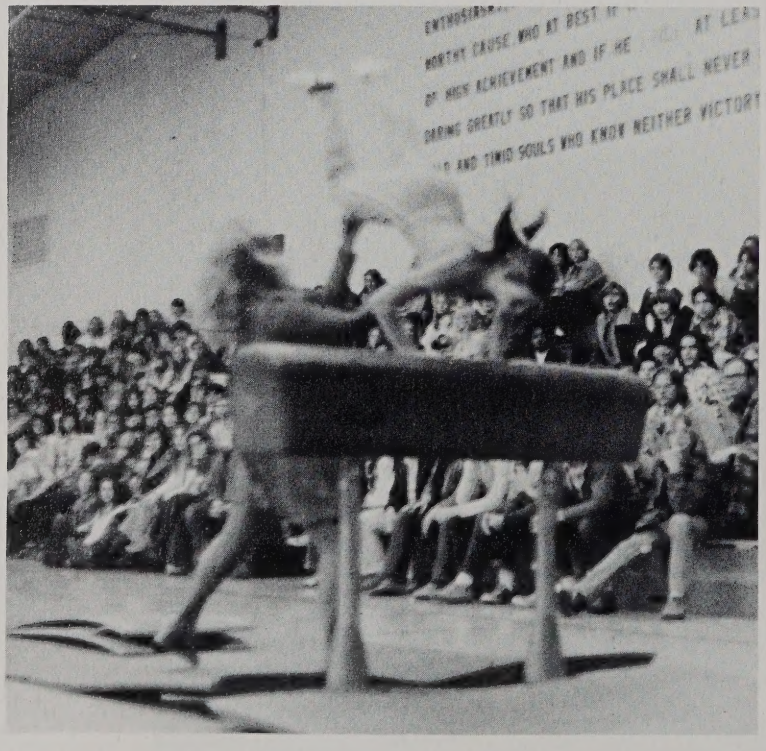


Dawn Green and Melody Haynes perform gracefully on the beam.



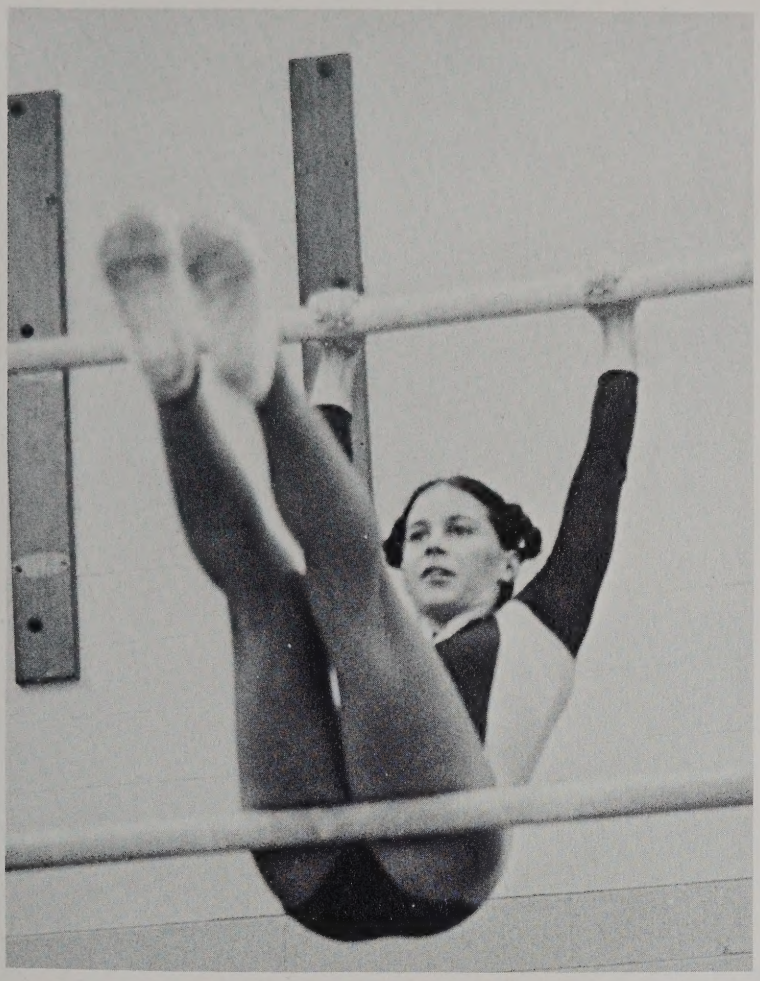
There's nothing to it!

Suzanne Kelly demonstrates winning form.



This move takes practice.

She's got style.



Melody Haynes shows her all-around form.

The Lady Falcons had a very good season ending the year with a 4-1 record and a third place in the district. These talented tumblers displayed the form needed to score points and win their meets. Led by Melody Haynes, one of the top performers in the city, and the assistance of Hazel Conkwright, the team defeated their opponents with style and grace.

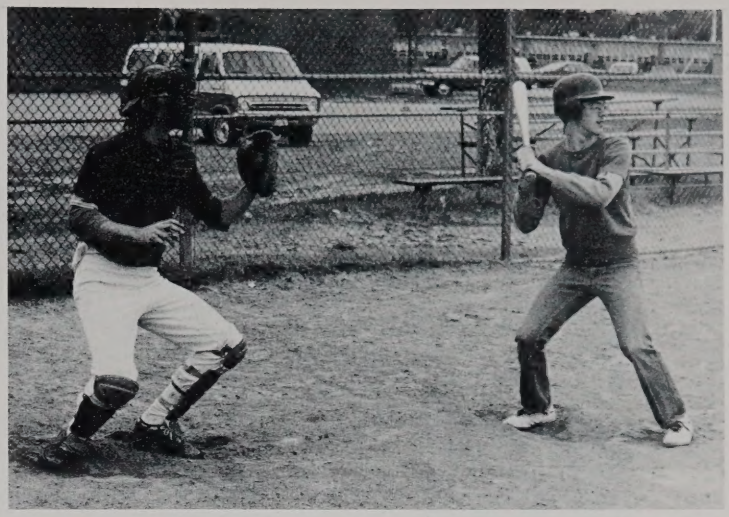
An anxious crowd cheers the Falcons on to victory.

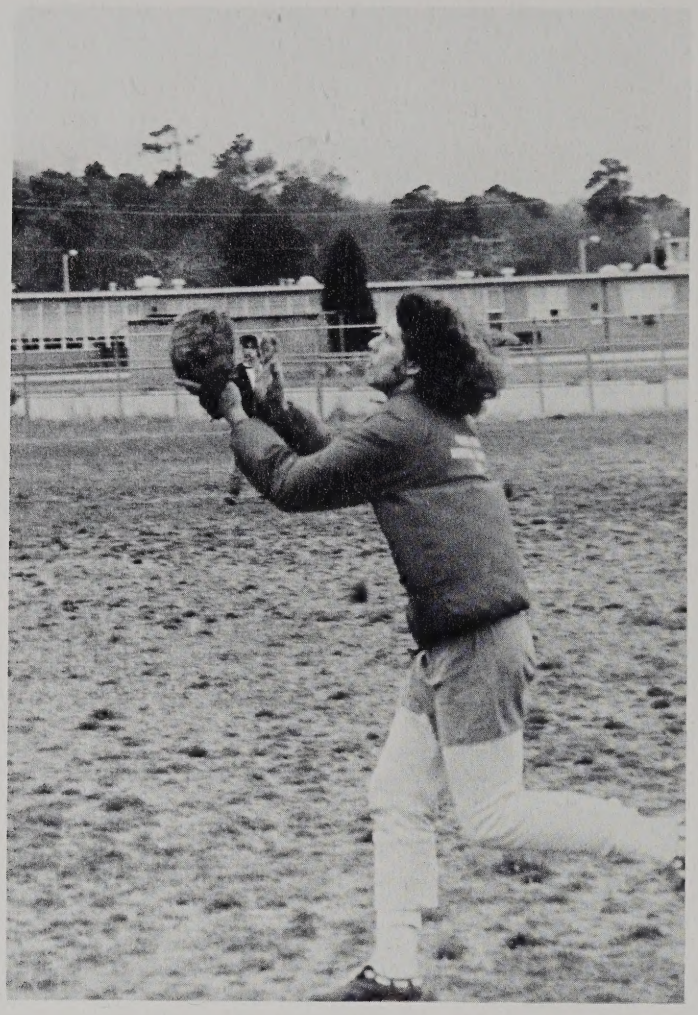


John Koehler and Tim Smith get ready for the season.

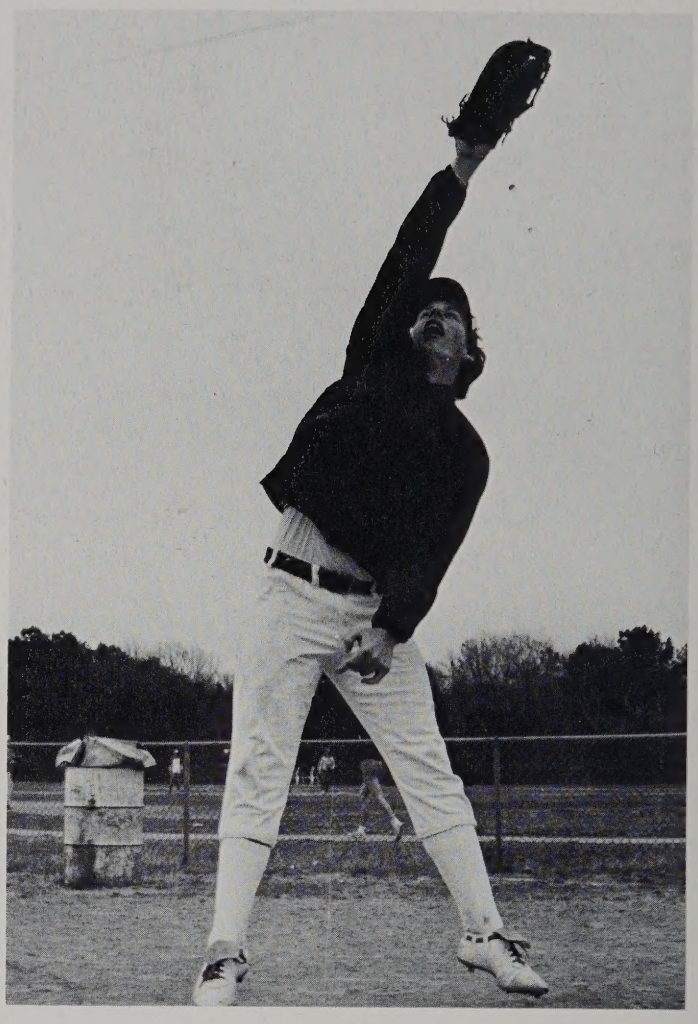
BASEBALL

Spring is welcomed by the crack of a bat or the whiz of a ball as baseball practice begins. With many lettermen returning, Cox was in a good position to have a winning season. Coach Tom Fisher and Jack Ferrell, John Koehler, Bruce Herring, Tyree Brown, and Bailey Condrey led the Falcons as run after run was racked up for the season.

The crack of the bat starts an exciting game.



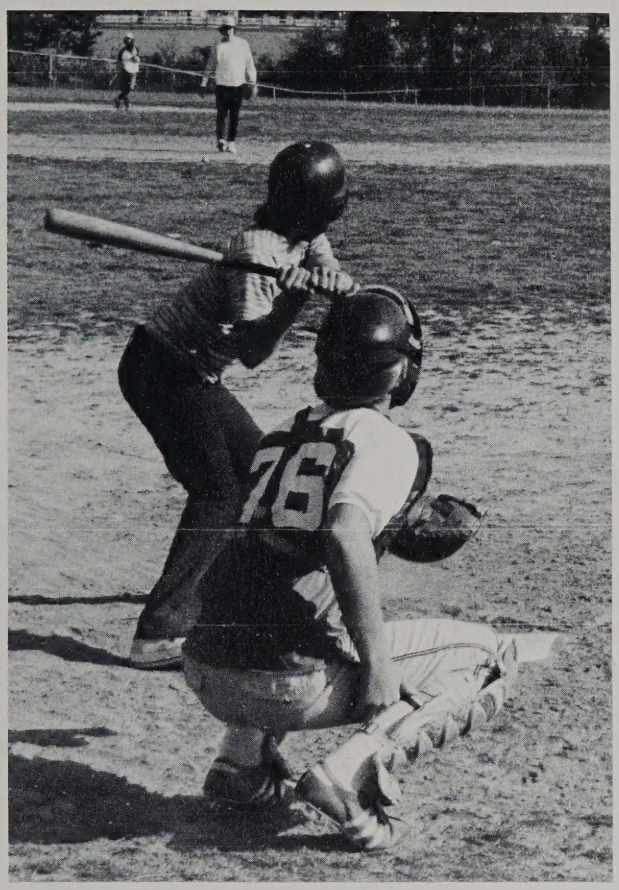
Bailey Condrey waits with determination.



Mike Lupi leaps for a catch.

Standing — Coach Tom Fisher, Tim Smith, Mike Lupi, Bill Woodhouse, Chuck Reynolds, David Eirnstahl, Don Marchand.

J.V. BASEBALL



J.V. Falcons get ready for a victorious season.

For the past four years, Cox's J.V. Baseball team has had a very good record of winning two out of three games, and this year their goal was to win them all. The team was composed of all new, sophomore players, with their coach Mr. Koeppen.

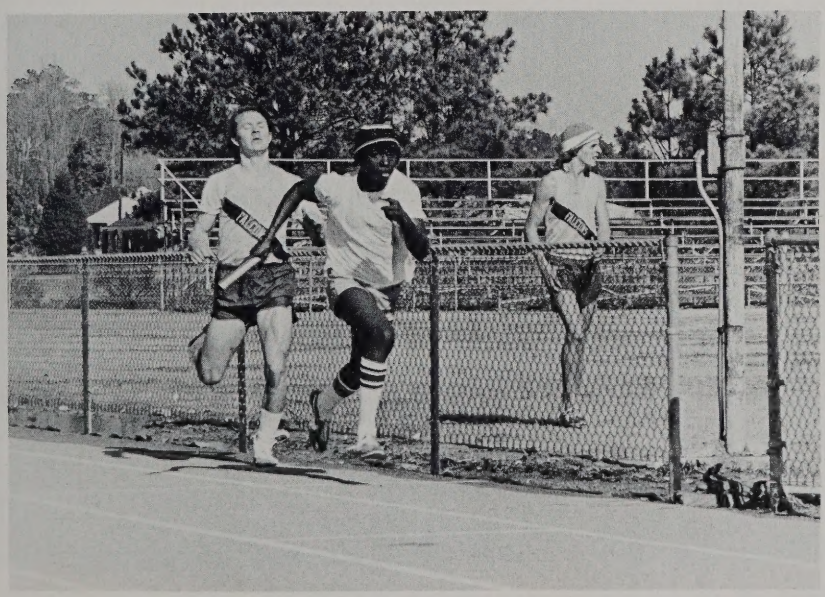
The indoor track team had some busy Saturday mornings for two months. The members met in dual competition and achieved a 2-3 record over all. Under the leadership of Coach Armstrong the team had a fine season.

INDOOR TRACK

Mike Frester flies over the bar.

James Goss leaps for a score.



Lyn Geisler passes off to Andre Davis.

SPRING

Track — the sport where speed and endurance are necessities. Returning members Mike Forester, Tom Murphy, Brian Dyer added their experience and form to the team. Track is a rugged sport that demands top performance in every phase and to win, one must know when to hold back, or excel and to be able to keep going when every ounce of strength seems sapped. Coached by Hank Armstrong and George McGovern, these athletes must be, and are a dedicated group.

NETTERS

Tennis, formerly known as the "gentleman's game," requires skill, agility, and most of all, speed. The team members put in many hours of practice to improve these qualities and their efforts have certainly been rewarded. As practice began in February, returning team members Mike Waddell, Lindsey Powell, Glenn Dean, Mark Barry, Tim Semones, Ricky Lutz, Brad Newsom, Will Rogers, and Scott Beach, worked along with and gave support to new members of the team.

Kneeling — Sarah McNally, Pam Hyde, Kim Garber, Eileen Joyce, Shelia Langan. Standing — Marion Hinze, Pam Neagley, Priscilla Ellen, Claire LeBlanc, Linda Jones.

GOLF

To shoot under eighty is a feat worthy of praise, and the Falcon team has proved its worth. Coached by Phil Williams, the team practiced on their own time for each individual's self-improvement. In a game calling for skill and close attention, Cox's team is up to par. Among the returning members were Tom Shanahan, Steve Penny, Mark Beach, Bob Harwood, Scott Zackowski, and Patti Belcher, the only female Falcon golfer, led the way for some exciting games.

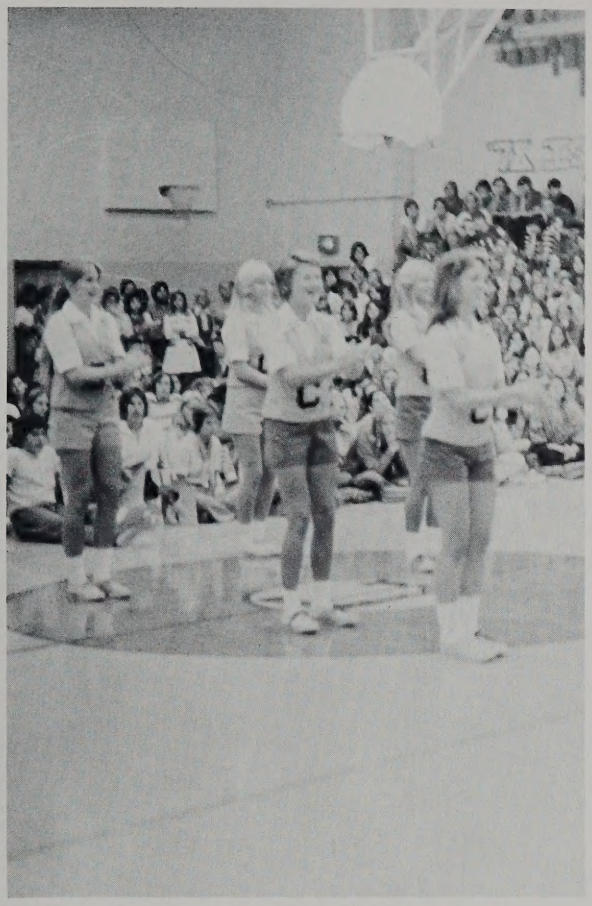
J.V. CHEERING



"V-I-C-T-O-R-Y!"

Along with the varsity cheerleaders, the J.V.'s aided in boosting school spirit. Although attendance at some of the games is small, the J.V. cheerleaders are always there, cheering the Baby Falcons on to victory.

J.V. Cheerleaders show enthusiasm.

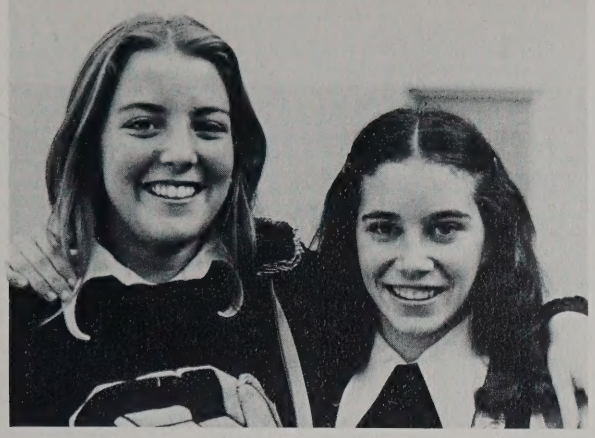
CHEERLEADERS

Go-o-o-o-o-o!

Did we do something good?



. . . through victory and defeat.

Senior Cheerleaders inspire spirit.

The hub of almost all spirit-minded activities of any school is its cheerleaders. To smile when the home team is losing is a hard job, but the Cox cheerleaders have done so through the many victories as well as defeats. The mechanics of the cheers are sometimes difficult and the girls spend much time practicing. They are the gist of all pep rallies and most of the spirit boosting banners are painted and hung around campus by the bubbling girls in green and yellow uniforms. In any game, spectators must boost the team, and our cheerleaders do the job of boosting the spectators; however, this is sometimes a hard and thankless job. The Falcon cheerleaders give of their time, talents, and spirit to make their school one to be proud of for they are proud of it, and we are proud of them.

Boy
this is what freedom means really
to our body around here
But the seniors is ahead and the similar faces will be Rangers next year. Hope to see ever the summer
But I wont know who you are without your other half. (Just kidding)
Have a nice
Summer

We, the Bicentennial Seniors of Frank W. Cox High School, in order that our accomplishments be remembered, our precedents honored, and our mistakes be avoided, do hereby set down the History of the Class of 1976.

Fresh and promising as a rising sun
We came to Cox in seventy-one.
The hopes we had outweighed the fears
Of things to come in our five years at Cox, and we were proud to affix our title:
The Spirit of Seventy-six.

Our eighth grade year — a time to grow.
To find a place and finally know
We'd meet our goals most eagerly.
Our first President was Lynn Zimmerly.
David Fink was Vice President,
the job of treasurer befell
To a little blonde girl named
Amy Birdwell.
Janet Jones was the Secretary
and we were off with a hop
On our long five year journey that would lead to the top.

David Fink gained the presidency as a Freshman you see
And our Fabulous Freshman Fair came in the Spring of Seventy-three.
With Cathy Crutsinger, Vice President and Lynn Zimmerly,
Scribe.
We carved a solid union out of a wandering tribe.
We cheered as Brock Summs
counted out all our money,
Our future at Cox looked much brighter and sunny.
We won first place Homecoming
Float with our plane.
Let's see any other ninth grade class do the same!

In the 10th grade Cox saw we would no longer need
her to protect us.
Now Rich Marlow was our leader.
With Veep Steve Broudy at his side
The projects began to swiftly glide.
Lisa Hill kept the books and fourth in rank was Bailey
Condrey, minding the bank.
The year moved quickly with sales and projects and more.
But still we were to see what our Junior year had in store.

In the 11th grade we sought to top
The feats of all others and without a stop
We held our Ring Dance in January's cold.

At the Commodore Country Club
it glittered like gold.
The Talent Show left us good memories to last.
And David Fink was as great as he was in the past as President.
With Lynn Zimmerly the Vice
The year was completed with zest and with spice.
Cheryl Utterback kept neat
minutes and we knew Lauri
Banks would be great as treasurer and deserves all our thanks.

But Time's never slow
when you work hard and strong.
And we found we were Seniors
before very long.
The Senior Class president was Cheryl Utterback,
Tee Carr was Vice President,
And he had a knack for puns that has made him a legend at school.
Ellen Schall proved a good mind
is a Secretary's best tool.
And Janet Jones paid the bills
and kept track of the dough
From selling T-shirts and dance
tickets.
The Senior Class Show was
"The Matchmaker," extravagant
in costumes and sets.
The Senior Class Powder Puff's
were mighty as jets.
The Homecoming dance was the best ever seen.
And Cathy Crutsinger presided as Homecoming Queen.
From our Senior Class trip,
planned like a trip to the moon,
To Prom in the Spring and Graduation in June.
As the "long Green Line" leaves,
if you listen you'll hear it.
The last long hurah! of the Seventy-Six Spirit.
And on our nation's 200th birthday
it will be sung long and loud.
That of the Class of '76,
The United States may be proud.

Roxanne,
It has been really great knowing you for the last two years. I hope to see you in the future
even though I'm going to P.A. next year. Have lots of fun throughout life and stay just as sweet as you are.
Friends always,
Kellie Sawyer

P.S. - A word to the wise...
Before you walk through the doors of life,
Make sure they are open.

Juniors: Great Expectations

"Celebrating life in the middle" is an appropriate theme for the Junior class. They guided the Sophomores with the experience of the year before, and followed the Seniors with the anticipation of the year to come.

Leading the Class of '77 were David Purpura, Pres.; Ellen Scheurich, V. Pres.; Taylor Wooten, 2nd V. Pres.; Claire Le Blanc, Sec.; and Pam Hyde, Treas.

Juniors "ring in" Homecoming

Through rain, eggs, toilet paper and flour, the Junior Class stuck together. Although no one believed it would happen, the class float arrived from Inga Arrington's house to the stadium in one piece.

SOPHOMORES: A BEGINNING

In a senior high, the Sophomores always start out as the "underdogs." However, this year the SUPER SOPHOMORES made a comeback. Their enthusiasm was revealed through pep rallies, their homecoming float and class meetings.

The spirit of '78 was promoted by Jay Condrey, Pres.; Sonya White, Vice Pres.; Charlotte Purkey, 2nd Vice Pres.; Mary Anne Sturtridge, Sec.; Kathie Rosenmeier, Treas.; and Jan Howarth, Parl.

"SO-PHO-MORE-LET'S GO!" was their call to action. "Getting it all together" the class of '78 tried to make their voices heard over the rambunctious Seniors and Juniors.

The Sophomores put much effort into their float this year. Melissa Principe and Ann Bowerman helped display the Sophomore creation on Homecoming evening, and they weren't just clowning around.

THEY'RE ON THE WAY
• to the van of their dreams • a Eurorail ticket • an 8-track deck • a college degree
Because today, they're saving by mail at NAS Oceana Federal Credit Union.
We've got two offices — at Pembroke Office Park and NAS Oceana. But you can save by mail to save your time and gas.
We pay higher interest rates than those paid by commercial banks. So your savings add up faster when you save with us.
We'll answer questions about things that puzzle you — like interest rates and loan applications. And we'll help you plan a budget now to meet your future goals.
Membership is open to families of all active or retired military personnel (Navy, Army, Marines, Air Force, Coast Guard) and families of NAS Oceana employees.
So come see us and save. At NAS Oceana Federal Credit Union.

it was a year of CELEBRATION of new faces in the crowd of old friends
and treasured memories
to be summoned from hearts in years to come a year we grew tired of the commercialization of our nation's great birth
a year of a February springtime
when we grew restless
to hit the beaches
and greet the warm sunshine
a year when we stood hand-in-hand to wonder and dream and hope in the struggle for freedom to meet the future our own way while trying to meet the expectations of others.
it was a year to look back on in lonely times to come a year to cherish and remember to move on towards tomorrow

The past is but the beginning of a beginning, and all that is and has been is but the twilight of the dawn . . . A day will come when beings who are now latent in our thoughts . . . shall stand upon the earth as one stands upon a footstool, and shall laugh and reach out their hands amid the stars.

H.G. Wells

No one can realize the pains it takes to put together all the memories of a school year unless one takes the time to experience it. I only hope that the words and pictures enclosed in this book touch the hearts of all who possess it. Everyone who took part in the creation of the 1976 Talon should be highly commended. I would like to extend my very special thanks to Mr. John Perry of Hunter Publishing Co., Mrs. Trett, Brian O'Boyle, Patsy Willis, and Mrs. Debbie Holland, whose patience and devotion helped us to endure the hardest of times.

Seniors Cap the Year ... 1976

Mrs. Smith, Cathy Vogel and Mary Pat Denny are part of the student - teacher group that has planned graduation.

Do Seniors really want a star - spangled graduation? Some committee members had brief moments of bicentennial spirit. But the moving mass of red, white and blue will not appear. Graduation will be green and gold, and very traditional. There will be 456 Seniors expected to receive their diplomas on June 14, at 8:00.

Congressman Whitehurst will be the guest speaker. If rain occurs, like last year, Dr. Brickell will make the decision on a rain date. The Baccalureate ceremony will take place the night before graduation at 7:30.

The two advisors for the Senior class are Mrs. Smith and Mr. Woodhouse. Mrs.Smith admits to having nightmares about graduation. She would "Like the reassurance that not all dreams come true."

Seniors working on graduation are: Randy Robida and Cathy Harrison - caps and gowns; Mary Pat Denny, Randy Robida, Cherly Utterback, Pete Watson, Lisa Kuper, Tee Carr, and Ellen Schall - set up.

Girls'& Boys' State Chosen

Seven Cox students will be going to Girl's and Boy's state during the week of June 13-19.

Those students chosen from Cox are: Renee Meredith, Ellen Sheurich, Jen Lee Guthrie, Clare LeBlanc, Mark Beach, Mark Virgilli, and Bill Woodhouse.

"I was really excited, surprised and pleased to be chosen" is Renee Meredith's viewpoint about the whole matter and Mark Virgilli expresses his opinion in the same way.

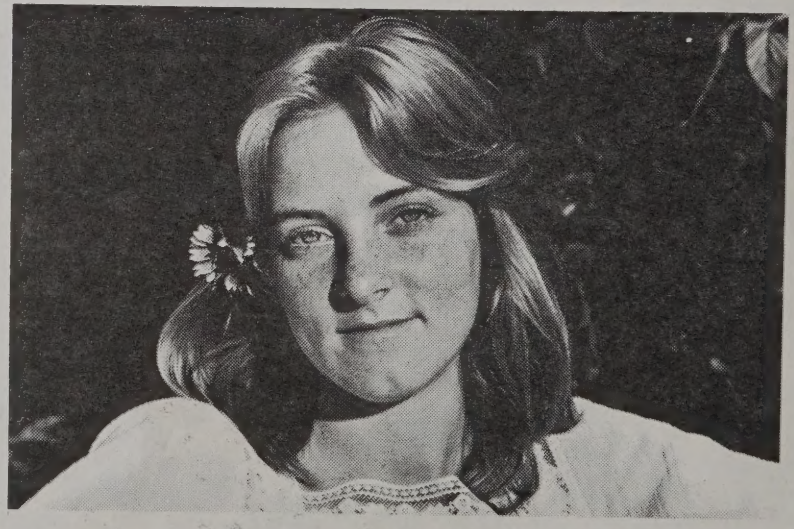
Girl's state will be held at Longwood College and Boy's state will be held at Madison College.

The Cox students, along with students from other regions of the state, will be learning about Virginia's governmental setup and the procedures for state elections. They will attend assemblies and workshops. Toward the end of the week there will be a mock election and each person will represent the district they live in. Those winning the elections will serve as government officials for a day presiding over those present at Girl's and Boy' state.

Three students that display the most talent in their position will then go to National mock elections in Washington, D.C.

COLLINS DOES COVER

The COXSWAIN cover is a black and white reproduction of a Benton Collins photo. Collins took third place and $300 with his work in the Student Gallery, a Tidewater art contest. His work is on display at the United Virginia Bank in Norfolk.



If Hazels Conkwright's smile is any indication of what this summer will be like, it will be fantastic!

COUNSELOR TO LEAVE FOR V.P. POSITION

Mrs. Freeman, our Guidance Director, will not return to Cox next year. Instead, she has accepted a position as the Assistant Principal for Instruction at Kempsville High School.

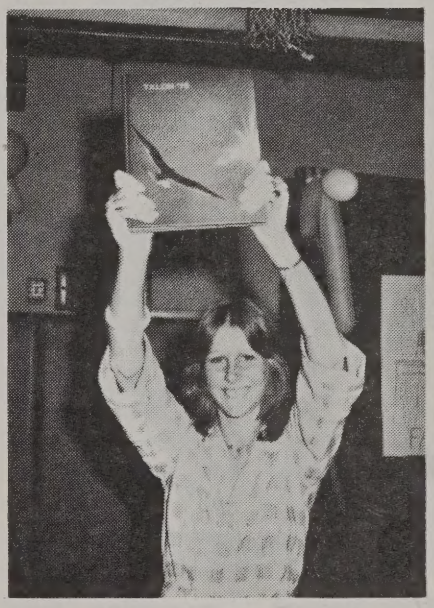
She has been a guidance counselor at Cox for four years. Mrs. Freeman was formerly a math teacher and Guidance Director at Princess Anne High School.

CANDIDE MAKES A HIT

"It was challenging," said Mr. Garrett, producer and director of the musical Candide. "The expenses were high, but we managed to break even." Including props, costumes, and construction, the cost of the play was close to $3000.

According to Mr. Garrett about 60% of audience attendance were students, while the other 40% were adults. Twenty students from John Marshall High, in Richmond attended the show Friday night, the only night that was sold out. The seats on Wednesday, Thursday, and Saturday were only three-fourths occupied.

Many people weren't familiar with the play, but the audience's response was great. The play was a great learning experience for the cast. The setting and costumes were splendid in color. The play was a big success, and the people involved with it were proud of their accomplishments. The cast was on television twice, and on the radio once to promote the play.



Editor Robin West proudly holds up finished Talon.

TALON IS DEDICATED

The Talon was dedicated for the first time this year. Mr. Davis was the receiver. "He was unaware that he was to receive the dedicated Talon and stayed home because of sickness," says Mrs. Holland the advisor for the staff. Mrs. Davis was notified and after a short delay he arrived.

The total cost of the Talon was over ten thousand dollars. According to Mrs. Holland they broke even.

The editors for next year's Talon are: Jane Lacy, editor; and Patsy Willis, assistant editor.

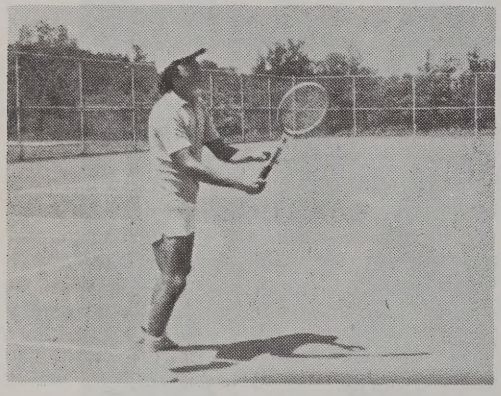
SPRING SPORTS ARE OVER

FALCONS END GOOD YEAR

With the end of the 1975-76 school year nearing, spring sports have completed their seasons and settled with their final records.

The Varsity Baseball team completed its season with a record of 10 1/2-6 1/2. An interuption of rain in the Falcon's final game resulted in the fractional records.



Mike Waddell prepares to serve.

Sophomore Bill Houglum dominated in pitching by bringing in five wins for the Cox team.

Top batters were Tyree Brown, Blain Cipriano, Donald Marchand, and Bruce Harring

Not all was good for the Falcons, however. Early in the season, catcher John Koehler was injured and unable to return this year. But Bill Woodhouse and Marchand were able to replace Koehler behind the plate.

Scott Steentoft pitched seven winning games to assist the Junior Varsity in earing a record of 7 1/2-4.

Steentoft, Andy Hubert R.E. New, and Scott Stewart lead in hitting.

Coach Koeppen claims that he is pleased with the performance of the entire team.

Spring Track pulled flocks of Cox students to the track and field.

The boys Track team was lead by Ray McDaniel and other valuable members. The trackster ended their meets with a 3-2 record.

Several Falcons Competed in District and Regional meets. Cox ranked third in District and tenth in Regionals.

McDaniels and Tom Spartz represented Cox in the State tournament. McDaniels ran the mile and Spartz ran in the two mile race.

McDaniels placed fifth after 4:20.]. He held the lead until his last lap when, exhausted, he fell behind.

The Lady Falcons ended the year with 3- - .

In State contention Teri Brothers, Carol Belcher, and Ruthie McGovern competed for Cox.

Belcher, a Sophomore, came in second in the long jump. Mcgovern put the shot to earn eighth place and Brothers made seventh placed in the high jump.

The Girls Tennis team began on the right foot but slipped three times and finished with a record of 7-3.

Four Cox members advanced to State. These girls were Sarah McNally Marion Hinze, Pam Neagley and Kim Garber.

The Boys Tennis team was less fortunate as the girls, but ended its season with 6 wins and 5 losses.

FISHING IS A LOCAL SPORT

What is a challenging sport as well as a profitable hobby? It's fishing of course, which is one of the many popular outdoor sports today.

Our local area provides a great advantage for the sport. The Chesapeake Bay Bridge Tunnel is a famous place for fishing, especially around the 3rd and 4th islands. Virginia is rapidly becoming established as one of the greatest places in the world to catch big striped bass. Eager fishermen in motorboats and yachts can be seen heading out early in the hopes of a profitable day's catch.

If you don't have a private place to launch your boat, there are many local marinas where you can. Also, if you want to do some deep-sea fishing but don't have access to a boat, some marinas also provide for private chartered trips. With the cost of food rising these days, fishing proves to be both a pleasurable and practical way to spend a day.

In offshore fishing in Virginia, the most exciting thing is that you can never tell what you'll get on the end of your line. It could be anything from a bluefin tuna to a dolphin.

You don't necessarily need a boat to do some active fishing, many people just throw their lines over a local pier or bridge. Virginia holds world records for black drum, channel bass and cobia. Blues usually run during most of the warm months, and provide steady and exciting fishing.

The Atlantic Ecology Club has found a way to mix work with sport and fun.

The purpose of the club, made up of students from the various schools in the area, is to better our environment and increase their knowledge in it.

Clean-up projects and aluminum drives are held along with ecology related trips to places like North Carolina, Florida, and the Blue Ridge Mountains and Canada.

On these trips the members may spend time skiing, camping, hiking, and the like.

According to Nancy Foreester, a member of the AEC, a trip to Switzerland during Spring break next year is up for consideration.

They also make trips to Ocracoke, on the outer banks of North Carolina, to collect specimens for salt water tanks.

The only requirement to be in the Club is a passing grade in Biology.

Members of the AEC from Cox are: Suzan Arikol, Nancy Forester, Craig Kelly, Ray Malone, Jeff Raymond, Ellen Robey, Chris Whalley, and Susan White.

Students from Bayside, Kempsville, Cox and Princess Anne are involved in the program.

The sponsor of the AEC is Nick Savage, who teaches at Bayside High School.

Cheerleaders for the 1976-77 year have been selected. Next years squad will consist of: Carol Belcher, Hazel Conkwright, Jen Lee Guthrie, Kalaine Greene, Veronica Haynes, Barbara Hoffman, Michelle Holland, Pam Hyde, Suzanne Kelly, Melanie Moss, Janet Resch, Amy Richards MaryAnn Scheurich, Paula Spartz, Karen Sweeney, and Thirza Trant.

The Golf team completed its season 6-4.

The Cox golfers with the best average, according to Coach Williams, are Louis Simonic, Steve Penny and Tom Shanahan. They each averaged somewhere between 70 and 80.

To our Aduertisers:

We, the Coxswain staff, would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your support.

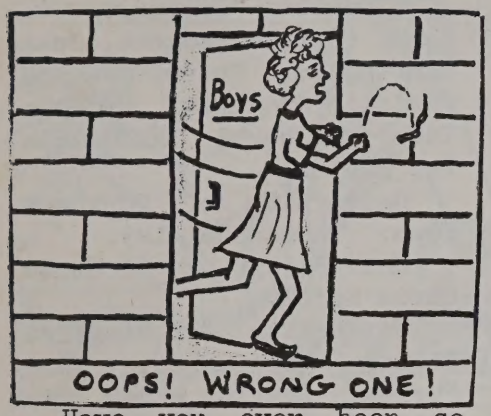
Was My Face Red!



Have you ever been so embarrassed that you felt like disappearing into thin air, or hiding in a closet? Many Cox students have.

Colleen Ryan decided to slide down the banister one day, when suddenly a rip-p-p was heard throughout the hall. Colleen walked around school until her mother arrived, red-faced and hands behind her.

Another Cox student who has turned as red as a lobster is Mary McLaughlin. She walked into the library one day and pulled out an encyclopedia. Along with it came all the rest of the encyclopedias and the entire bookcase tumbling down on her.

Muffet Jones was so used to being called by her nickname that when she started high school she didn't even remember her real name. When the teachers called roll with her as "Margaret", she didn't answer and was counted absent.

For Robbit Alexander, a practical joke turned into an embarrassing memory. He popped a girl behind the knee, and to his surprise, she fell down and started screaming.

Barbie Wright did some thing that most of us have done at one time or another. She walked into her classroom and sat down. She soon noticed that most of the faces were strange to her, and promptly retreated to her real class.

Lisa Boychuck was walking out of the library when someone behind her accidently stabbed her with a pencil. She screamed so loud that everyone turned around to see what had happened.

Lisa Zanetti was going down the hall when her shoe broke, and flew off. Since they were platform shoes, she has to limp down the hall and retrieve it. It wouldn't stay together, so Lisa had to hop down to the telephone to call her mom for replacements.

So if you think you've been embarrassed, you aren't the only one. Join the club!

Great Neck Travelers Spot Traffic Director

"I love it" Wilma Pasquale exclaimed when asked if she enjoyed her job as Traffic Director in front of Cox High School.

If you ride a bus coming from Shore Drive or drive to school you're bound to have seen Cox High School's new addition, her name is Wilma Pasquale and she directs traffic in front of Cox every morning and every afternoon.

One morning during Spring Break, Wilma got a call from Sgt. Jackson, her superior. "Cox High School is in need of your services," he said. With school resuming after the ten day break Wilma was to report in front of Cox, leaving her First Colonial position where she had worked for five years.

She has been on the Virginia Beach police force for 9 years. Wilma who also works in front of Linkhorn Park school is married and has a daughter 15 and a son 21.

There are 21 traffic guards and three substitutes who work all over Virginia Beach, each of them when first going on the job goes out with a Police officer to learn the basics and from there have meetings and a seminar every year at the start of school.

When asked if she had anything to say about her new location Mrs. Pasquale said that she read an article a while back that said approximately 15,000 cars travel Great Neck Road each day. After working at Cox for a couple of weeks she has decided all 15,000 of them travel it between 7:30 and 8:00 each morning.

"BOOTS," To The Rescue

She can be seen anywhere in the school, donning her white coat and traveling from the halls and classrooms to her domain, the clinic.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mc Bride, (affectionately known as Boots), has been the school nurse at Cox for 11 years. She views her job as a "nurse-counselor---three or four things rolled into one."

In the clinic there exists a camarderie between not only Mrs. Mc Bride and the CMA members who assist her, but also everyone else who comes in.

When asked about the functions of the clinic, one CMA member addressing the reporter joked, "you sure you have enough paper (to write it all)."

Mrs. Mc Bride however feels that the clinic coordinates the health of the school, plus administering other services "just to make it a happy day."

Mrs. Mc Bride is known for the "extra special" things she does, such as taking over ill teachers classes, and showing films to the health clases. As one student noted "she's always looking out for you."

Yet there are limitations to what Mrs. Mc Bride can do for ill students, except during emergencies. "We give no medicine, unless it was authorized by a doctor," she said.

Before she came to Cox, Mrs. Mc Bride was a head nurse at Norfolk General, where she had graduated. She decided to become a school nurse because "for one year, I gave my services free, and I liked it and the students so I decided to stay on."

Mrs. Mc Bride said she would encourage people to enter the field of medicine, 'It's probably one of the most rewarding fields," she said. "Not only can you take care of someone else, you can take care of yourself equally as well."

14 Years of School and finally Leaving

"He makes sure you know what is going on and is concerned about whether his students are learning or not," was Claire LeBlanc's comment about her former math teacher, Mr. Barba.

Mr. Barba started teaching in 1962 and all his teaching has been at Cox. He will be retiring this June.

When asked about the changes he had seen at Cox through the years, he said, "I feel that there are not as many students who are motivated to learn now as there were in the past, but I have always enjoyed teaching and the companionship of the students."

As a math teacher, Mr. Barba seems to have a good rapport with his students. Susan Simonelli, a student in his Algebra 2 class, said, "I like it when he tells us stories about his past experiences or explains how we will be able to use what we are learning in math later in life."

Mr. Barba, who likes to describe himself as an outdoorsman and enjoys fishing, hunting and working on the up keep of his house says, "With all that and my fifteen grandchildren I should have plenty to keep me busy!"

NEWS BRIEFS

Cox Medical Association had their annual banquet on May 25 at the Cavilier Dinner Playhouse.

The C.M.A. had a blood drive on May 13 to obtain their goal of 150 pts. of blood, 148 pts. were given.

The Yawp, the National Honor Society's literary magazine, will be on sale the last week of June for 50¢.

The 28 page magazine has students stories in it that the NHS has chosen especially for the Yawp.

The magazine contains poetry, stories, photographs and drawings. Some students whose work appears are John Koehler, Richard Marlow, Loree Wiltshire and Benton Collins.

Karen St. Onge received the John Phillips Sousa award, otherwise known as the outstanding musician award and Paul Owens received the Airron or scholastic award on Band award night.

The Seniors chosen for these awards were picked by their underclass band members.

Awards night was held on May 11.

In a ceremony held Friday May 21, nineteen new members were tapped into the National Honor Society. These students are: Mark Beach, Hazel. Conkwright, Julie Cruser, Nancy Forster, Emmy Gardner, Jen Lee Guthrie, Pamela Hyde, Claire LeBlanc, Mark Lefler, Barrett Lowe, Rene Meredith, Debra Parker, Wendy Pond, William Propst, Ellen Scheurich, William Virgili, Deondra Waters, William Woodhouse, and Taylor Wooten.

Governor's school, a school for the gifted will be held this year at Mary Baldwin College June 18-July 15, Mary Washington College June 20 - July 17, Randolph Macon Women's College June 16-July 13.

The students selected from Cox to attend this year are Nancy Forester, Ellen Robey, and Taylor Wootton.

They were nominated by teachers and were then selected on the basis of grade average I.Q., and National test scores. Each student is in the upper ten percent of his class.

According to the information sheet the school is set up for approximately 400 rising Juniors and Seniors who are gifted in the fine arts, the humanities, the natural and physical sciences, and or history and the social sciences. This year music composition will be offered to a limited number of qualified students.

EDITORIAL ....

When you were young, and a regular genius in the first grade, did you ever think that you would become anything less than president of the United States? Maybe you planned to become another Mark Spitz, or an Einstein. By the time you reached high school, your dreams probably became more realistic. You became more aware of the pressures upon you to decide what you would make of your life.

Many of our elementary classmates never made it to their junior year. Some never had ambitions or goals, others had the ambition but not the will to grind on under the pressures of school. Then there are those who have kept up with the work and coped with the pressures. They are on their way to being successful in our job oriented society.

Some of us did not find happiness in our school work and did not receive good grades. Scholastic achievement has been called what you are supposed to have to be a success in life - don't be fooled. Just being happy with yourself is a more realistic and fulfilling ambition.

There are too many people who judge a person on what he does and never see what he is. There is no Senior at Cox who can't find some sort of meaningful place somewhere, as a housewife, a college professor or just wanderer. What will decide the success of our lives is how we have developed our own character.

REBUTTAL

In reply to the editorial written by Laurie Burns in the last issue of the Coxswain:

I don't believe that the marines who made the Bicentennial presentation to our school sometime ago meant to offend Miss Burns' profound ideals. They simply combined the heritage of the Marine Corps with the history of our country.

Tom Williamson

I would like to talk to you about the last issue's article by Miss Laurie Burns She talks alot about the flag being enhanced by war. War, in most cases, is inevitable. Most people would rather fight then sit at a peace table.

The United States is not one of these countries. The U.S. does not "glorify" war but rather honors those who died for this country. They died to spread the ideals of freedom and justice throughout the world.

I personally know a man who was wounded in Vietnam in 1968. In 1973, when the Saigon government was falling, he was willing to go back to fight or even die to preserve the freedom of the South Vietnamese people. I ask you, is this glorification of war?

In Germany, in the early 1960's, there was a city. Despite all their troubles and hardships, the people had a saying; "Ich bin ein Berliner." And so,with great pride, I say; I am truly an American. Thank you.

P.O.1 R. Matt Di Palma

I, Danya Browder, leave to "Squirrel" the title of "Missy Lohr". My memories of State to all who go. Robby, as many birthday presents as he wishes. Randy, any girl he wants. Debbie, my stolen art; to Mr. McGovern, "Myrtle the Turtle". To Ford, a smile. My sisters, memories and love.

I, Pam Wiley, leave to Kim luck and love; Mr. Phelps courage to fight the system; sisters, friendship, love and thanks; David Louis, lots of mixer; Miss Fowlkes, many thanks, laughs and many laps; Richie, happiness, success, and two dates for every dance; Cox, fond memories and fantastic times.

I, Pamela Neagley, do hereby leave to my sister Betsy this good ole Cox High School of America, and to the tennis team all the dead tennis balls in my blue bag, and all the luck for next year's season.

I, Will Atkinson, leave to Jack Ferrell the cleaning bill after one of my parties, to Kathy King I leave the job of corrupting our neighborhood in my absence; to Mrs. Smith I leave my unused physics book; to Craig Mueller and Mr. McGovern I leave my best arguments.

I, Harry Purkey, leave to Jimmy Lickie all the times I almost killed us driving home from Hatteras; to Bill Pendergast and Lindsey Powell I leave my front yard; and to Miss Pangle I leave the hope that she can find something for her students to do next year.

To Mrs. Waller, I leave all my reasoning, for she needs it. To Mrs. Pickerel, a self-destructive smile. And to all rising Jrs. and Srs. parties, parties, parties. Brock Summs

I, Michael Milligan, of sound mind and able body, leave to Mr. Thornton one blank piece of paper so he can try to grade it, and to my brother an empty case of beer cans that he left in my van. To Cox High I leave my knowledge to the rest of the student body in the school.

I, Mary Pat, do hereby leave to Tee a refill for his windshield washer; a short fuse for Mr. Baum; to Gracie, a fork in the toll road; to Bailey a back-up light; to Ellen Schall Mr. Perfect; to Laurie a hair-cut; to Flitz 12 inches and to Cox an inexhaustable supply of Pontons.

I, Tim Beatty, do will to Jeff Rosenfeld, 1 dirty sock, a roll of tape and trainer's book on the use of tape. To all varsity basketball players next year good luck with Mr. Onkto. To Richard Davenport, a keg of his favorite beer. To this school, I leave.

I, Kim Duke, will my car to my sisters, with hopes that they will have the same good fortune as their tardiness bestowed on me, being constantly late for scholl, leaving us the last parking place, and having to walk that distance whether it rains- wind - or cold weather.

I, Patti Sue Neergaard, of sound body and wandering mind, hereby do I leave.

I, Patricia Haden, after five years at Cox High School, and surprisingly enough, still being of sound mind and body, leave not soon enough.

I, Cathy Sneed, being of sound mind and not so sound body, leave to Linda Manning my spot on the heater; to Bob I leave Carrie's black and red underwear; and to my Sugar Bear I leave nothing. I'm taking you with me.

I, Susan McAllister, being of sound mind and body, leave Judi Lancaster a box of L'Oreal so she can touch up her roots; to Walter, my sincere apologies for being born; and to those who have classes out at the stadium next year, a case of Visine and chewing gum.

I, Rick Wilson, leave the following people such items that should be of value to them. Mr. Leagan, my books on Longfellow; Greg Knutson, the Ohio Corn Belt; Grace Showalter, my thoughts behind my smile; Vicki Duke, my car minus three wheels; to Cox, I withdraw my membership.

I, Peggy Kehoe, being of sound mind and body, leave to Inga all of my English and government notes in nopes that she will do a lot better than I did, and to Cox I leave!

I, Carrie Gordon, leave: Melissa Principe-support for her TB Sanatorium; Laura Mooney - my arguementiveness; Carol Belcher - one termite ridden tee, 1 dirty sock (Patty's): Ellen Scheurich - one deflated basketball and my biology notes; Patty Wood - my mother's Norwegian Grammar book; Faith Lancaster-my Boston accent; Jan Howarth- A book-- How Not To Say "You Know" 83 times in a Report.

LAST WILLS AND TESTAMENTS

I, MaryAnne Whitlatch leave -- To Uncle Ray - dusty typewriter, Pod's Pope, Ingraldsen, Hope! Daddy-Riedel-Jackson, Mecartea, and ump-te-ump. Billy T. Hary Guedson- good luck. Band- psychiatric help. Kincaid, Gibbs, Griffith-permanent detention. Marks, LeClear, Price, Gureloff - "Boogie Fever." NJROTC "Gang' - my Polish heritage straight jackets, insults, insanity, parties, friendships, Semper Fidelis and esprit-de-corps.

I, Charles S. Hosier, leave my P.E. socks to Will Atkinson, to remind him to buy some of his own. To Sean Ryan and Steve Diggs, I leave my car so that they will always have a ride home. To all the seniors I wish a strong, prosperous future.

I, Nina Tingle, leave to Steve a very white dress, an open friendship, and hours on the phone. To Hal, a Thoroughgood cruise on a moonlit night, and to Tom the "Big D". To Pam I leave her hands and advice from an amateur. To Mrs. Ainslie, my nickname "toots"; Ms. Davis, heartbeats at the Zodiac for Donny; and to Jinx spaghetti, beer and mass corruption. To all I leave the hole in the wall past the breezeway where I spent three of the most rewarding and successful years of my life.

I, David Pickett, leave to Tina Virgili, a ten-speed bicycle in hopes that she will find time to ride it: to Kenny Beale, I leave two reinforced fenders for his car in case he decides to race another school bus; and I leave lots of thanks to Cox High School.

I, Susan Colden, leave to Suzanne part of my life because hers is all used up; to Tom my Paul Simon album entitled "50 Ways To Leave Your Lover"; to Bill I leave a brand new 1976 Chauffer-driven Vega Stationwagon and a case of Coors for the three stooges; to Andy, 50 toll free telephone calls to Radford; and finally to Cox, my thanks.

I, Betty Wisecarver, of unsound mind leave: to Cmdr. Newman, Mr. Riedel, a medal of Honor for staying sane; to Joey, Humza!! To Michelle Clark, I leave M. DiPalma; to Rosie Jackson, The Acadamy of Rolling Houses; to M. DiPalma, a hand; to Girls' Color Guard, it was a good year! To N.J.R.O.T.C., good luck and win a Captain Caton award!

I, Tyree Brown, leave my basketball jersey to James McClenahan; my vision to "Rocketman"; my sense to my brother (Huey), my staff position to brother Benji Brown; to Tommy Needham, the band; to Beth I leave myself (ha! ha!); and Linseed a record of Mr. McGovern.

I, Kathryn Louise Langlois, maintaining an unheard-of mind and a constantly heard-of mouth, do hereby bestow upon Paulette my shorthand ability of 130 wpm and typing equally fast!?! The word limit redeems friends from unlimited nostalgia and therefore, I leave Cox without loss, without regret, and without knowledge.

I, Ophelia Joyner, leave my books and old papers to Wanda Goffigan, Christine Waller and Gail Chandler hoping they'll be "A" students and make the best of Cox High School that's there. If you get Mr. Baum for English, he's nice, sweet, okay, etc.

I, Debbie Bennett, leave all underclassmen with one of the finest ladies that I have ever met and hope you all will take care of Mrs. McBride. I also leave you the Librarian who you all know and love!

I, Bill Tomasik, forgive my buddy Sam for drinking our beer and passing out at state: Susan a watch or two; Suzanne, Robin and Jenny a party at Mike Kelly's; Tom a leg to stand on; Andrew a shotgun; to the gang David Firnstahl's roll job; and Brian Malcolm brains.

I, Steve Broudy, being of perverted mind and sound body, do bequeath the following: Nina Tingle - a pair of blue jeans, phone calls and friendship; Mary Zimmerly-my body to abuse; Tom Jones- his big wish; Hal Hicks - eyebrow tweezers; Hawkes - "The Empties"; Leslie Bruestle - Mark Beach; Cox - Another "Rowdy Broudy".

I, Bridgette Evans, leave to my friend a hope for a beautiful life and thanks dor making these years so much nicer; to Mr. Thornton, a box of zeroes to give to people when they are in a good mood and he isn't. And to anyone who wants it -- superior English with Mrs. Pickerel.

I, Ellen Schall, leave: Mr. McGovern--my little pink eraser; Mrs. Pickerel--an air conditioner for her classroom; Mary Pat--practically, practically everything; Gracie--a book on the life of John "the" lifeguard; Laurie--a free pass to use the car after 7:00 p.m.; Bailey--a life full of "suspense".

To my sister Kathie I leave one Ricky Lutz for President button. To the football coaches next year's team and the best of luck for a successful season. Last and (Mmmmm) certainly not least to Mr. McGovern, well, I just leave.....

I, Sandy Belile, leave to Beth and Jane my Government and English notebooks. To Steve and Tom-a year supply of Salem. To David ten "bra busters". To Willie I leave Rhonda. To Kathy Steno 2; to Kathy and Sharon, "walkie-talkies". To Nancy, "Soap Opera Digest". To Michele, tranquilizers for English 11S.

I, Sean Ryan, do hereby leave Chuck Hosier one mmmmp! To Steve Diggs I leave my comb. To Lewis, a lifetime supply of razor blades. To Keith I leave Lisa, and to Terri I leave anything she wants.

I, Theresa Langlois, being of questionable state of mind, leave to my sister Paulette, my car, to guard while I'm away. To Stanley Wilkerson, I leave the toilet tissue his friends, Mike and Phil, accidently left on my car. To Annette Bailey, I leave Ricky and all those hard times.

I, Patricia Brockett, leave my lazy socks to Priscilla. To Peddy I leave my gold tassel in hopes that one day her brain may develop. Margo Forbes gets my Gov't notes and a cheat sheet along with them. To Linda Jones I leave her with her 2nd Bell teacher's monkey suit.

I, Mack Tabor, being of limited mind and body, leave to Mrs. Pangle a set of hands off to keep her hands and pretruding finger nails from future damage during lectures; and to all Junior Firemen in Cox a "Hot One" and the chance to nozzle. Good Luck C.B.J.V.F.D.

I, Charity Robey, leave to Tee Carr, lots of pun in college; to Danya Bee, a pair of wings to buzz all over with; and to S.B. a bunny. I hereby express amazement at being able to escape this institution without ever getting those two legends McGovern and Pickerel.

I, Ron Batliner, being of insane mind and of unsound body after four years of High School and one year of Mrs. Pickerel and Mr. McGovern, do dutifully leave them to Bruce Sutherland, Ward Bradley, Bill Propst, and Jon Huddleston. Have fun in your years to come.

I, Rick Adams, being of not quite sound mind, leave: to Mrs. Pickerel my book of 1001 reasons why I wasn't in class; to Mr. McGovern a 1-year supply of old newspaper to use as turtle food; to Cdr. Newman I leave fuzz face; to Cox High I leave.

I, Kevin Connor, in total drunkeness, leave Missy Tignor a return share of Good Tuesdays and Saturdays. To Linda Swingle, a date of her choice for Friday and Saturday nights, and to Holly Pittman I leave 100 quarters to be spent on Wednesday nights.

I, Debbie Hendrix, leave to everyone the good times I have had. Also I leave the music and drama departments all the luck and laughs I have had with everyone involved! All I can say is "Thank you and good-bye!"

I, Butch Brown, hereby leave Cox High School; to the graduating class of '76 a case of booze and the teachers get a case of bottle tops.

I, Tom Williamson, bequeath my possessions to the following people: John Redmond, my suede elevator shoes; Jim Symons, my Edward Kennedy dartboard; to Scott Zackowski, my slice; to my sociology class, a leather bound copy of most memorable statements; Mr. Leagan, "You won't have Tom Williamson to kick around any more."

I, M.P. Watson, III, do hereby bequeath to all the students who have had the displeasure of knowing me throughout my long duration at Cox, these last comforting words: I intend to go far away -- for as we all know, where there's a will there's a way. . .

I, John Hollingsworth, being of questionable mind and body; leave Mrs. Pickerel one well-used pocket dictionary and 1976 pages of English notes with such exuberiating phrases as "Do you have the audacity to question my veracity." To Mr. McGovern I leave Mrs. Pickerel. To all upcoming Seniors, a prayer that they don't get both of the above. And to all Junior Firemen a hot one.

I, Mike Forster, leave behind many memorable experiences and friends and carry with me a long-lasting impression of Cox, its faculty and student body.

I, Richard Johnston, leave to Mr. Holland my gym socks which if he whistles for will come to him. To Mr. Leagan I leave my Joe Cool button for acting like Mr. McGovern. To Mr. Taylor a big still. To Mr. Gutermuth the key to Room 210 at Ramada Inn so he won't break the door down.

I, Lisa Hill, leave Cox with a good feeling like ~~it's about~~ damn time. To Linda Proctor, I am leaving Dennis Slough. He's all yours Honey! To all uprising classmen I wish you luck and don't fret, your time is a coming. Good-bye, Buddy! Love, Henry.

I, Colleen, leave the following (revised version): to Mr. Boyll the "Complete Dictionary of Trite Expressions of Colleen Fleitz"; to Mr. Garrett his nickname (Jetwood); Mazie, white doves; to Raymond, oh Wah Ree and "B.W."; to F.F. a sequel to "Big Tooth"; to Richard, my T's and A's because I'm sick of juggling them around, and terrifying experiences with three dollar bills!

I, Christine Foster, leave Allison Thornton ten long beautiful fingernails. To Wendy Pond I leave our memories of Regional Chorus, and to Mr. Boyll I leave 1,345,678,885 points. To Caryn Utterback I leave her very own boyfriend; and to Bradford my love forever.

I, Pam Hancock, being of sound mind, do leave Karen to Mike and hope he will not leave her. To April, I leave Karen; she needs all the friends she can get! With this done, I leave.

I, Barry Herbert, being of sound mind (well, body anyway) and body, leave to Cdr. Newman and the NJROTC my best wishes and good luck; and to Mr. Phelps I leave the "Phelps Doctrine" (A cinder block with the word work painted on it.)

I, Karen Alexander, leave a case to my brother if he takes state next year, and I also leave Michelle D. a little less worries. To David Brown, hope next time you find a lady she'll be swimming, and to Jay F., next time it will be an arm.

I, Karen White, leave Bruce, Mr. McGovern (I hope you get him next year), and the fun times spent with you. To Kevin, I leave the terrible thought of not being able to see me arter third bell next year. To Adria, all the fun times during Journalism class.

I, Jeanne Pincus, leave laughter in the halls and hard work in the classroom to all who are left. I leave to Jay Condrey and Jenny White lots of luck and good ole times. I also leave very happily and gladly.

I, Robin Perry, through my overwhelming generosity, and infinite wisdom, do hereby leave to Timmy Brown a full year of Mr. McGovern and a used government notebook. To Mr. Phil Williams, I leave all the luck in the world.

I, Lynn Callahan, give to all the people I am graduating with this year a good luck wish for a happy life.

I, Carrie Gordon, leave this last will to regulate my earthly riches among my mortal friends. To all of the people I could not mention because of the limit on words, I leave a copy of the book, How To Have A Swimming Time In School, better known as Sink or Swim, written by Ive Gott Stonefeet.

I, Stacy Mundon, being of round mind and body, leave Coach Holland my old P.F. Fliers to give to another loafer. I leave Richard Johnston the trampoline; Steven T. Miles III the weight set, Scott Burgess ten tobacco farms; Peter Sachon, all my cigarette butts in the No. 2 bathroom; and to Mr. Davis and George McGovern I leave.

I, Jim McConnell, with sound mind and body, leave my sweetheart Sharon all my illnesses. I also leave Mr. White all my knowledge in English. I leave Mrs. Tugman my Red, Black, and Grey five inch platform shoes.

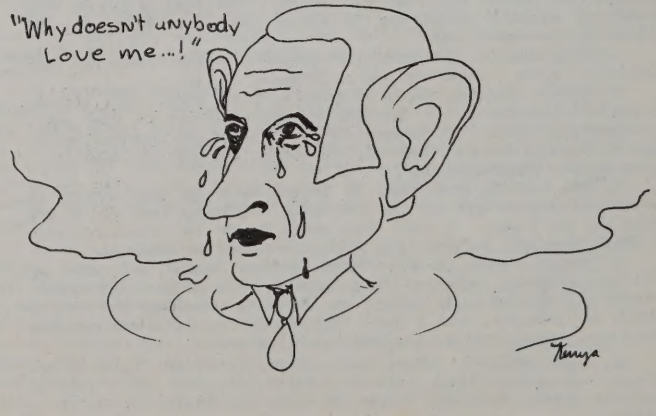
I, Sharon Espey, leave Patty Spring Cotillion and a life of happiness; to George McG. a class of A students; to "Bully Baby" some forged notes; to "Stink" a gallon of Brut; to Mr. Garrett and Mr. Boyle my dramatic and artistic (?) talents; and to Cox nothing, because there's nothing left to give.

I, Laura Friedman, hereby bequeath: to Keith Adams, enough cutdowns to last him an eternity (Sorry it couldn't be a million dollars, but then everybody would want some) and to Bernie, Phred, and Michelle, well....never mind. And to Brigette and Thom, more of the same. Hey Danya - Hang two! Also to Mr. Cooper, "a doctor and a nurse" because everybody has dirty ears.

I, Paul Owen, leave the following: to Melody one button and bruised elbow; to Bernie "where to today"; to Emmy my "Gold Clarinet"; to Mr. Boyll "a clarinet that plays like a violin." To Mr. Cooper five great years and to Troopers best of luck next year.

I, Ruby Welling, being of uncertain mind, and body do leave: Audrey Hayden my "Cat in the Hat Pajamas"; 1,000,000 pieces of Pizza Toast to Jeanann; Mike Kodya I leave one yard Aquarium tubing; to Mitch I leave my wiggle; to Chuck I leave the World's Biggest Candy Cane.

I, Ellen Holloman, leave to Kenny Holloman a muscle builder. I would like Debbie Parker to have my little black book. To all of my Senior friends I leave Friday nights and a box of free passes to Haygood Roller Rink. I leave the best of luck to all those undergraduates.



Roxana,
It's been really nice knowing you this year. We didn't get much studying done but we had a lot of fun. Remember all of the crazy conversations you, me, and Regina had during the summer. I'll see you in the future.

Love,
Shari
class of "77"

To a good friend

Roxana,
Seems like every year I get to know you a little better. I think you're really a sweet person and between you & John math isn't quite so boring. Hope to see you around this summer.

Love '75
Leslie

Roxana,
It's been a good year. I'm glad we've been in a class together. You have a beautiful smile. Keep it that way. Have a good summer.

Love,
Jeanne
